PRESIDENT TALKS POLITICS IN OHIO

Taft Spoke in Columbus and Met Many of the Republican Leade[illegible]

THOUSANDS SHOOK HIS HAN[illegible]

Spoke at Chamber of Commerce and Dedicated Federal Building—Governor Harmon Was His Luncheon Guest

Columbus, O., Jan. 30.—Reviewing the achievements of his administration before the Columbus Glee Club here tonight, President Taft drew the line sharply between the old line Republicans and the Progressives of his party, and practically declared that the time was at hand when the "denunciation" of the Progressives must cease and when the Nation will demand facts. He had not the slightest doubt, he said, that the Republican party would win out in the November elections.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 30.—President Taft's second day in Ohio developed less speech-making and more politics than did his 16-hour stop in Cleveland, for many Republicans dropped in today to have a word or two, and to add something to the President's growing information about political conditions here. The President spoke at a luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce on peace and dedicated the new Federal building with a speech against the judicial recall during the day, and tonight as the guest of the Columbus Glee Club repeated portions of his speech last night to the Tippecanoe Club, of Cleveland.

He spent the night in Columbus and ends his trip tomorrow at Akron.

Shortly after his arrival the President held a reception in a local hotel, and more than 3,000 persons shook the President's hand.

The alarming reports as to his physical condition that went out of Cleveland last night were discredited today, both by the President and by Dr Thomas L. Rhoades, the army physician, who is accompanying him on the trip. The President declared that he was far from being a sick man and said that the only inconvenience he suffered was from his cough and from the fact that his cold interferred with his sleep. Dr. Rhoades said that the President was recovering from a bronichal attack that could be expected to run its course, without serious consequence, in several days. Although his voice was still hoarse Mr. Taft spoke today with less difficulty and coughed much less.

The President arrived in Columbus early. Republican National Committeeman A. I. Vorys, of Ohio, came down from Cleveland with him but said that there had not been any political talk on route, or even at the breakfast table.

Aside from Mr. Vorys, however there were other Repubucan leaders who discussed politics with the President. Among them were Congressman Taylor, of Ohio, former Congressman Grosvenor, known when he was in the House of Representatives as "Old Figgers;" Former Senator Dick, L. C. Layns, who is generally conceded to share the leadership of the Taft movement in the State with Mr Vorys; Lawrence K. Langdon, floor leader of the House; Malcolm Karschner, who has taken an active part in the organization of Roosevelt clubs in Ohio, and many others. Several leaders told the President that the Taft forces would control the Ohio State Central Committee by a comfortable majority, and others that the movement in his behalf was gaining strength.

Governor Harmon, who was a luncheon guest with the President, could not escape the political atmosphere, for when Mr. Taft rose to speak he prefaced his address with a few confessions in which he and Ohio's Governor figured, much to the delight of the diners and to the amusement of Mr. Harmon, who apparently enjoyed it as much as the President.

"When a man has been traveling about the country as I have been doing," said the President, "and as some other executives have been doing, there are times when there is an unjust suspicion that the journey has other than official motives.

"Now, the advantage I have in coming to Columbus is that I am buttressed around with reasons for coming other than politics. Here is a public building that has to be dedicated.

"Governor Harmon and I, because of our old and affectionate associations, could not keep away from each other upstairs when we got within reach of each other, even though the proprieties require that we should observe the due official relation to each other that circumstances suggest, and so we had a talk and we talked politics, and you would be surprised to know how many subjects, personal and otherwise we had complete agreement about. Our views of insurgency don't differ greatly, there is little difference in detail as to persons but as to the principles of the thing we are 'sot.'"

Governor Harmon did not continue the confession. He did not have an opportunity.

The President made it clear to his hearers that he had grown impatient with the attacks that have been made

MEYER ARRAIGNS DEMOCRATS

Secretary of the Navy Thinks Economic Policy a Poor One and Declares We Will be Left Behind.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Abandonment of the programme for two battleships this year brought out a statement from Secretary of the Navy Meyer today. The action of the Democratic caucus last night also caused activity in the Democratic ranks in Congress, the result that another caucus to reconsider the matter probably will be called.

Secretary Meyer arraigned the action of the Democratic caucus as "giving another illustration of government by snap government."

He asserted that "the Monroe Doctrine is as big as the Navy and no bigger," and that the United States, guaranteeing the neutrality of the Panama Canal, must be prepared to make good its pledge.

"Even with a continuous programme of two battleships a year," said Secretary Meyer, "the United States would fall a little behind its present effective strength, for the reason that in another year four of our battleships, built during the same period, will become non-effective.

"The dreadnought type is the warship of the present day. One dreadnought built by a foreign power in excess of the number built by ourselves is equivalent to wiping off our list at one stroke the Indiana, Massachusetts, Oregon, Iowa, Kearsarge and Kentucky.

"We have an enormous extent of coast line; we have Alaska, Porto Rico, the Philippines and Hawaii, and we have the obligation to guard and protect Cuba and maintain her neutrality. To perform these obligations satisfactorily, we must have a strong sea-going fleet. The only sure defense of the country and the only assurance of safety is for the fleet to be able to seek out its enemy on the high seas and to cripple or destroy it."

England, the statement declares, has authorized for the coming year five dreadnoughts and Germany three dreadnoughts and one armored cruiser. Japan is said to have authorized five ships of the latest dreadnought type and $79,000,000 for new construction between 1911 and 1917.

The Secretary asserts that the Democrats might have brought about economy if they had "had the courage to abolish needless navy yards which are costing the government several million dollars a year for maintenance alone."

"A navy for the Nation and not for local interests, is what should be sought," the statement concludes.

STEEL TRUST EARNINGS.

Income of Steel Corporation Lowest in Years.

New York, Jan. 30.—Earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the fourth quarter of 1911, made public today, were $23,105,115, with net earnings of $19,978,521. These figures, which are subject to slight change upon completion of the audit for the year, barely cover the amount applicable to preferred and coupon dividends at the present rates of 7 and 5 per cent. per annum, respectively. The usual quarterly dividends at these rates were declared by the directors at their meeting today.

Earnings for the year aggregated $104,255,563, with net earnings of $84,536,335. These figures compare with $141,144,001 and $118,895,134, respectively, in 1910, and are the lowest returns since 1908, the year following the financial and general industrial depression.

After payment of the preferred and common dividends the surplus net income for the final quarter of the year was reduced to $89,638 as against $408,000 in the corresponding quarter of 1910. At the end of the latter year the corporation carried forward a balance surplus of $10,928,719. At the end of 1911 the total surplus was reduced to $4,735,462.

It is noteworthy that throughout the year 1911 the Steel Corporation made no appropriation from surplus for expenditures of any kind, whereas in 1910 the sum of $26,000,000 was appropriated for various expenditures, including additional properties, new plants and construction and $1,000,000 to cover advanced mining royalties.

MRS GEORGE W. SANDERLIN.

Widow of Former State Auditor Passes Away at Raleigh.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Geo. W. Sanderlin, of Washington, D. C., died here tonight at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Willis G. Briggs, after three months' illness. She was the widow of the late George W. Sanderlin, North Carolina State Auditor from 1888 to 1892, and one of the auditors of the National Treasury at Washington, 1892-96.

She leaves four daughters, Mrs. W. G. Briggs, wife of postmaster at Raleigh; Mrs. B. W. Reed and Misses Georgie and Roselie Sanderlin, of Washington, D. C. Interment will take place Thursday here by the side of her lamented husband.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—The battleship New Hampshire, delayed from yesterday on account of the heavy fog, sailed this afternoon for the New York Navy Yard to complete repairs.

GRAVE SITUATION EXISTS IN LISBON

Martial Law Declared in Portugal on Account of General Strike.

STRIKERS HAVE 20,000 BOMBS

Bombs Were Thrown at Republican Guards and Troops Were Obliged to Charge the Mobs With Their Sabres Drawn.

Lisbon, Portugal, Jan. 30.—Owing to the grave situation caused by the general strike, the constitutional guarantees have been suspended and martial law has been proclaimed in the district of Lisbon. The city has been handed over to the keeping of Gen. Carvalhal, and troops surround the town.

Reinforcements are constantly arriving, but because of the presence of troops, there were few disorders today. Liberty to work is absolutely guaranteed by the government.

There are 8,000 troops under arms in Lisbon, where the strikers declare they have 20,000 bombs with which they will be able to annihilate the soldiers. Several bombs already have been thrown with terrible effect.

The government is desirous of preserving a moderate and prudent attitude and offers to concede part of the strikers' demands, the release of all the strikers during the disturbance of Evora district and the dismissal of Governor Evora. The situation tonight was such that it was deemed expedient to proclaim martial law in the capital. A large number of agitators already have been arrested. The troops are under orders to raid all suspected places, with the result that wholesale arrests have been made and innumerable firearms seized. The prisoners are being placed aboard warships in the harbor.

Toward evening strikers assembled in various quarters and bombs were thrown at mounted Republican guards in Rocio square and in the suburb of Alcantere troops were obliged to charge the mobs with drawn sabres. The government has now ascertained that the strike was fomented by Royalists who supplied the strikers in Evora with $600,000. The intention of the Royalists was to send 1,500 armed men across the frontier into eastern Portugal, that region being favorable to a monarchy, and start a general rising, but the government hurried reinforcements there.

It is reported that strikers, bandits and smugglers enticed a column of troops into the heart of the mountains near Evora where the column was in danger of being surrounded and wiped out, but was finally saved by reinforcements which were rushed up to its assistance.

ABDICATION DECIDED UPON.

Chinese Affairs May be Settled in Near Future.

Peking, Jan. 30.—It is understood that immediate abdication of the throne has been decided upon, as a result of the conference today between the Empress Dowager, Prince Chun, the ex-regent, and Prince Ching, the ex-premier, in accordance with conditions laid down by the Republicans, namely that the Imperial family and princes are to retain their empty titles, reside in Peking or elsewhere at their pleasure and receive annual pensions aggregating 3,000,000 taels ($2,000,000) and that the transfer of power will be effected with as little loss of dignity to the throne as possible.

The Empress Dowager has summoned a cabinet meeting tomorrow to arrange details of the abdication. Premier Yuan Shi Kai, in a statement to the newspapers, avers his readiness to accept almost any solution which will ensure peace. He has no fear for the country's future, he says, if the settlement is the fruit of the reason, truth and justice. Yuan further says that he has no ambition to become President of the new Republic and only desires the establishment of a stable government.

Many soldiers were killed by the explosion of a dynamite mine under an Imperialist troop train, which was proceeding from Siakoan, 30 miles north of Hankow, to Ho Nan. A bomb was thrown at the viceroy, who was traveling on another train, but a strick the car adjoining, killing a number of soldiers, but not injuring the viceroy.

Gen. Liang Pi, the former commandant of the Imperial guards, who was injured on January 27th by a bomb thrown by a Chinaman while the general was alighting from his carriage in Peking, has since died.

COMMITTEE MEETS MONDAY.

Indications for Large Attendance at Democratic Convention.

New York, Jan. 30.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said today that the committee on arrangements for the National convention will meet in Baltimore next Monday morning. Indications, he said, were that the attendance of the convention would be the largest in the history of the party as Democrats were more confident of victory this year than ever before.

Mr. Mack had nothing to say on the Presidential situation except that he had read the Harvey-Wilson letters and found them "quite interesting."

DAVIS WON'T GIVE EVIDENCE

Prohibition Leader Refuses to Appear In Police Court With Evidence About "Tiger" Whiskey—Other Raleigh News

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 30.—Not waiting for the writ ad testificandum expected to be issued by the Raleigh police justice court for Superintendent R. L. Davis, of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League, to give his evidence as to whiskey selling which was sensationally exploited Sunday afternoon, Solicitor H. E. Norris, of the Sixth Judicial District, has written Mr. Davis a letter insisting that he furnish him the evidence, along with the eight bottles of whiskey the superintendent had gathered from "blind tigers," this to be used as corroborative evidence. He tells Mr. Davis he sent Township Constable D. R. Byrum to him yesterday for the evidence and Byrum had reported that Davis refused to furnish the evidence. He tells Mr. Davis in a letter made public that that he is priting this request for evidence in justice to himself and Constable Byrum, and without regard to whatever Raleigh authorities may see fit to do with reference to the case.

Superintendent Davis is now in Western Carolina on a lecture trip with National Lecturer Woolley.

Superintendent R. L. Davis, of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League, left Raleigh last night for a week's trip into Western Carolina with National Anti-Saloon League Lecturer Woolley, without submitting to the police authorities of the city the evidence he has that the whiskey he exhibited to the prohibition convention was purchased from the alleged blind tigers he declared they were. The police are insisting that it is up to Mr. Davis to submit his proof and the purpose is declared to serve on him when he returns to the city a writ compelling him to come into court and produce the evidence so that the "tigers" may be prosecuted, this in spite of the explanation that Mr. Davis has made to some, that the party who procured the whiskey for him, to show how easy it was to get [illegible] tion of the [illegible] the promise [illegible] not be brou[illegible] in any pros[illegible]

CASE TO[illegible]

Allison M. [illegible]

Newark, [illegible] calling of [illegible] witnesses [illegible] without putting the accused man himself on the stand, the defense suddenly rested today in the trial of Allison M. MacFarland, who is charged with the murder of his wife by the substitution of cyanide of potassium for headache medicine. Arguments were made and the case will go to the jury tomorrow.

In summing up for the State, Prosecutor Mott quoted freely from more than 40 letters from which it was alleged MacFarland had agreed with Florence Bromley, of Philadelphia, to show that he was enamored of his former stenographer and so had a motive for ridding himself of his wife. The prosecutor said he would like to have MacFarland explain statements in these letters but declared that the prisoner was afraid to take the stand.

Counsel for the defense argued that MacFarland had told his wife that he had bought cyanide of potassium to clean silver with, had shown her where he placed it and that Mrs. MacFanrland had plainly taken it by mistake. He declared that MacFarland's relations with his wife were happy and those with the Bromley girl only friendly.

OUTLINES

Immediate abdication of the Chinese throne has been decided upon.

On account of a serious strike Lisbon, Portugal, was placed under martial law yesterday.

Secretary Meyer, of the Navy, criticised the Democrats yesterday for eliminating the appropriations for two battleships.

Joseph J. Ettor, leader of the textile strike, was arrested shortly before last midnight ,charged with being an accessory to murder.

The Spray Woolen Mills and the Rhode Island Cotton Mills at Spray, N. C., were adjudged bankrupt yesterday and receivers appointed for them.

President Taft spoke in Columbus, Ohio, yesterday, but the greater part of the day was taken up talking politics with Republican leaders in the State.

The strike situation in Lawrence, Mass., was quieter yesterday, the military restoring order after one striker had been killed. No efforts towards settling the strike were made.

Superintendent R. L. Davis, of the Anti-Saloon League yesterday refused to appear in the Raleigh police court with the evidence collected Sunday of "blind tiger" liquor selling.

The correspondence between Governor Wilson and George Harvey, subsequent to the withdrawal of Wilson's name from the columns of Harper's Weekly, was made public yesterday.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, was subpoenaed yesterday to appear before the Federal grand jury to give evidence as to the disposition of the McNamara defense fund.

STRIKE SITUATION QUIET YESTERDAY

Presence of Military Partially Restored Order at Lawrence.

NO EFFORTS AT SETTLEMENT

One Striker Killed Was the Only Casualty Yesterday in the Massachusetts Textile Strike. Parade Today.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 30.—Charged with being an accessory to murder, Joseph J. Ettor, of New York, leader of the great textile strike, was arrested by officers of the State police just before midnight.

The charge against the strike leader is in connection with the death of Anna Lopiszo, a striker, who was shot during an outbreak last night. The bullet which caused her death was fired by some one in the crowd of strike sympathizers, the police allege and was aimed at the ground but rebounded and struck the woman.

Ettor's arrest was not unexpected, but it was thought that some other charge would be made against him because of alleged inflammatory statements at public meetings.

To guard against possible attack by strikers or sympathizers the police station where Ettor is locked up was entirely surrounded by soldiers tonight, while inside many others were hidden away, prepared for an emergency.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 30.—With the exception of an early morning outbreak, when a Syrian striker, John Rami, was so seriously injured that he died at the hospital, the textile strike [illegible] ning for [illegible] that a larger number of operatives than yesterday reported for work.

Col. Sweetzer has granted permission for a parade of strikers in connection with the funeral tomorrow of Anna Lopize, a striker who was accidentally shot yesterday, but only after Strike Leader Joseph J. Etter had agreed that it should be purely a funeral procession and not a demonstration. It is expected that nearly 10,000 strikers and sympathizers will be in line. The route of the procession probably will be guarded by militia and police.

No efforts were made today to bring about a settlement of the strike, or an agreement of any kind. The strikers' committee met but practically ignored the suggestion of Governor Foss that the operatives return to work for 30 days, pending a settlement of their differences with the operators. The military arrangements in the city tonight approach as closely a state of martial law as is permissible under the laws of the State. Col. Sweetzer has under his command 21 companies of infantry and two troops of cavalry, and the whole city is under guard.

Reassured by the presence of additional militia the Arlington Mills reopened this noon. The only plants that were wholly idle were the Atlantic, Everett and Pemberton, and it was said that the Atlantic and Pemberton mills would attempt to renew operations tomorrow.

An autopsy is to be performed upon the body of Rami, the Syrian killed during the disturbance early today, to ascertain whether his death was due to a bayonet wound or a stab with a knife. Witnesses differ as to how the injury was received.

GEORGIA NEGRO LYNCHED.

Men Stormed Jail and Lynched Girl's Assailant.

Cordele, Ga., Jan. 30.—An enraged mob of 500 men today stormed the local jail and lynched Albert Hamilton, a negro identified as the assaulter of a prominent white girl in the residence section of this place last night. For 40 minutes the mob assailed the jail and finally effected entrance by battering in the locks of the outer door.

The negro was dragged from the building and strung up to a tree. Armed members of the mob vented their rage by riddling the dangling body with a fussilade of shots.

Hamilton was arrested this morning and was taken before the young woman who is said to have positively identified him as her assailant. Feeling was so intense that the sheriff appealed to ovornor Brown for aid in protecting the negro. The troops, however, did not arrive before the lynching took place.

The body of the negro was taken down late today, but no demonstration was made by the populace and the town is quiet tonight.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The credentials of Ollie James, Senator-elect from Kentucky, were presented to the Senate today by Senator Paynter, whom he will succeed on March 4th, 1913.

GOMPERS NOT TO BE CALLED

The Appearance of Frank Morrison Before the Grand Jury Will Determine Whether Others Are to be Called.

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—Whether any other leaders of labor of National prominence are to be called in the government's investigation of the dynamite conspiracy, is to be determined by the appearance of Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor before the Federal grand jury on Thursday.

District Attorney Charles W. Miller said today no subpoena has been issued for President Samuel Gompers and so far as he knew, it was not likely Mr. Gompers would be called. It was intimated that what Mr. Morrison had to say in his testimony would decide whether it would be necessary to summon any other officers of the Federation of Labor.

In investigating allegations that money was used to divert the influence of witnesses, the government, it is said, found in books and correspondence obtained since J. J. McNamara's arrest last April, records upon which more light is desired.

Mr. Morrison, who is to be accompanied by Henry H. Flather, cashier of the bank in Washington where the American Federation of Labor funds are kept, is to be asked about the disposition of the $225,000 raised for the defense of the McNamara brothers. Whatever financial feelings, if any, the International Association of Bridge & Structural Iron Workers had with the Federation since the McNamaras' arrest, is also to be inquired into.

Before his arrest, McNamara, as secretary treasurer of the Iron Workers, was allowed $1,000 a month for which he was not required to give any accounting, but which Ortie McManigal, the confessed dynamiter, says was used to pay for explosives and to pay men to blow up "open shop" structures. It was while going over these accounts that the grand jury, it is said, decided to go into all the finances of [illegible] ning for [illegible] in response to subpoenas to testify before the Federal grand jury investigating the alleged dynamite conspiracy. Both men, armed with records, will appear before the Federal inquisitors Thursday. Department of Justice officials were reticent today as to whether other National labor leaders would be summoned.

The investigation at Indianapolis, it was admitted by officials here, had been broadened so as to encompass all who may have had information of the guilt of the McNamara brothers prior to their confessions or others engaged in the uneventful transportation of explosives. The Department of Justice, it developed, had invoked in the Federal jury imposing a heavy penalty for the concealment of knowledge of a felony from the properly constituted authorities. This statute, covering crime known as the "misprison of a felon," provides: "Whoever, having knowledge of the actual commission of the crime of murder or other felony, cognizable by the courts of the United States, conceals and does not, as soon as may be, disclose and make known the same to some one of the judges or other persons in civil or military authority under the United States, shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than three years, or both."

Officials of the Department of Justice were disinclined to discuss the application of the statute declaring that everything depended upon the developments at Indianapolis. The other statutes invoked at Indianapolis refer to the unlawful transportation of explosives and the general conspiracy statute making it a crime for two or more persons to conspire to break a Federal law. The "misprison of a felony" section, it is said, could be applied to seeming violations of the other two laws.

BRYAN'S NAME WITHDRAWN

Name Taken Off Primary Ticket In Nebraska

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 30.—The name of Judson Harmon, of Ohio, was filed as a Presidential candidate here today while that of William J. Bryan was withdrawn. The Harmon petition was not on file very long before the Bryan petition filed more than a month ago was taken out of the custody of the Secretary of State by A. A. Arter, whose name was first on the petition and who was responsible for filing and circulating it.

The Harmon petition was filed by Edwin Fallon, of Falls City, Neb., and was signed by Fallon and 30 other Democratic residents of that city.

Mr. Arter filed the following notice of withdrawal:

"Secretary of State Addison Walt:
Lincoln, Neb.

"Learning that it is not the desire of William J. Bryan that his name appear on the Democratic ticket as a Presidential candidate and learning that he desires to go to the Democratic National Convention as a delegate at large from the State of Nebraska, I hereby withdraw the petition filed by me. SOME INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE

New York Paper Secures Publication of Wilson-Harvey Letters.

BOTH REMAIN GOOD FRIENDS

Governor Wilson Apologizes to Colonel Harvey for His Seeming Brusqueness and Says He Is Ashamed of Himself

New York, Jan. 30.—The New York Evening Post has sought, for the sake of justice, to all concerned, to secure the publication of the correspondence between Governor Wilson and Colonel Harvey. In that sense it appealed to them both. Neither wished to be put in the position of giving out private letters, but both assented to the publication with the distinct understanding that the initiative came from the Evening Post.

In his first letter to Colonel Harvey, under date of December 21st, 1911, Governor Wilson apologized for his seeming brusqueness, saying:

"A long time after that interview with you and 'Marse Henry,' at the Manhattan Club, it came over me that when (at the close of the interview) you asked me that question about the Weekly, I answered it simply as a matter of fact, and of business, and said never a word of my sincere gratitude to you for all your generous support, or of my hope that it might be continued. Forgive me, and forget my manners."

In reply, Colonel Harvey said among other things, "I think it should go without saying that no purely personal issue could arise [illegible] and when you stated the fact to be that my support was hurting your candidacy and that you were experiencing difficulty in finding a way to counteract is harmful effect, th eonly thing possible for me to do, in simple fairness to you, no less than in consideration of my own self-respect, was to relieve you of your embarrassment, so far as it lay within my power to do so, by ceasing to advocate your nomination."

Explaining that there was a full understanding between the two when Colonel Harvey took down Governor Wilson's name from the head of Harper's Weekly editorial page, the former says in conclusion:

"Whatever little hurt I may have felt as a consequence of the unexpected peremptoriness of your attitude toward me is, of course, wholly eliminated by your gracious words."

Governor Wilson replied under date of January 11th, in part, as follows:

"Generous and cordial as was your letter written in reply to my note from the University Club, it has left me uneasy, because in its perfect frankness, it shows that I did hurt you by what I so tactlessly said at the Knickerbocker Club.

"I am very much ashamed of myself, for there is nothing I am more ashamed of than hurting a true friend, however unintentional the hurt may have been."

The Governor further expresses regret that he was unable to confer with Colonel Harvey at the Jackson Day dinner in Washington, and continuing says:

"For I owe it to you and to my own thought and my own feeling to tell you how grateful I am for your generous praise and support of me (no one has described me more nearly as I would like to believe myself to be than you have), how I have admired you for the independence and unhesitating courage and individuality of your course, and how far I was from desiring that you should cease your support of me in the Weekly. You will think me very stupid, but I did not think of that as the result of my blunt answer to your question. I thought only of the means of convincing people of the real independence of the Weekly's position. You will remember that that was what we discussed. And now that I have unintentionally put you in a false and embarrassing position you heap coals of fire on my head by continuing to give out interviews favorable to my candidacy. All that I can say is that you have proved yourself very big and that I wish I might have an early opportunity to tell you face to face how I really feel about it all."

It is noted in the foregoing that mention of the Knickerbocker instead of the Manhattan Club is obviously a slip of the pen.

"That there is no particle of personal rancor or resent left in me," is the assurance conveyed by Colonel Harvey to Governor Wilson in a letter bearing date of January 16th: "I beg you to believe," he continued, "that I have not said one word to anybody of criticism of you and have to print an explanation to the Weekly's readers, but it will be the briefest possible."

Wilson Committeeman Resigns

Nashville, Jan. 30.—Robert Ewing, Middle Tennessee member of the

Woodrow Wilson State committee, resigned from the committee today, giving as his reason "the extreme personal bitterness which has lately developed between my brother-in-law, Henry Watterson and my friend, Woodrow Wilson."

Mr. Ewing has been active in Governor Wilson's behalf for some time, but soon after Mr. Watterson openly became a part of the Harvey-Wilson incident he gave out a statement upholding Mr. Watterson's contention.

In his letter of resignation Mr. Ewing says:

"When I accepted the place now resigned nothing resembling what has happened was ever dreamed of. I have had no word of any nature from Mr. Wilson or from Mr. Watterson in relation to the action I now take. My determination to do nothing official or personal which might in any way whatever wound Mr. Watterson, alone impels my action. At the same time I feel that it is but right that Governor Wilson should be represented in this immediate locality by one no way embarrassed, hence this resignation.

"Mr. Watterson has given this morning his final statement as to his view of the controversy. I suppose we may look for a like statement from Governor Wilson. From these the public can judge."

Thinks Wilson Has Been Helped.

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 30.—So far, in the opinion of William J. Bryan, Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, has been helped rather than hurt because of his controversy with Col. Henry Watterson, and he considers Governor Wilson "right in believing that a man is sometimes hurt by the sort of men clamorous in his support."

"I am under no bond to keep the peace," declared Mr. Bryan tonight in an interview given while waiting for his train en route to his farm at Mission, Texas. "Harmony is not the most desirable thing in public life. The organization proceeding upon that principle can progress only as fast as the slowest of its elements."

The contest in Missouri between Speaker Champ Clark and former Governor Joseph W. Folk he described as "distinctly unfortunate."

"Whatever the result of the primaries," Mr. Bryan said, "it is to be feared that either of the contestants will have weakened his chance of carrying Missouri in the general election.

"It was a mistake that the Clark men would not accept the Stephens suggestion, a thing I heartily approved, that the two Missouri men divide the vote of the State on the first ballot in the National convention and that the one who received the larger support in the delegations from other States take the full vote of the delegation afterward.

"How about the letter Governor Wilson wrote to A. H. Joline several years ago," Mr. Bryan was asked.

"A shining illustration that Mr. Wilson is the best modern example of Saul of Tarsus," Mr. Bryan exclaimed. "He has been soundly converted. Any one who talks with him or hears him will be convinced of that. Mr. Wilson's sort of progressiveness is best demonstrated in the Smith incident in New Jersey."

Mr. Bryan said he would not now make any announcement as to his choice of candidates for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

"There will be a campaign in my State in about two months," Mr. Bryan continued. "I expect to be in that campaign and before that time to decide between the Democratic Presidential candidates. We have a splendid opportunity to win and I hope for the selection of that man who can unite the Democratic elements."

Mr. Bryan also expressed his approval of Presidential preference primaries.

While primaries are still in the experimental stage to a large extent," he said, "I favor this method of selecting candidates. Ultimately I favor the making of a majority vote the deciding method in primaries."

MR. J. W. GRADY DEAD.

Popular Young Railroad Man Passed Away Yesterday.

Following an illness of only a few days, Mr. J. W. Grady died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where he went for treatment Saturday morning. He sank steadily and became unconscious Sunday and remained in a state of coma until death ensued. The deceased was in the employ of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad in the capacity of conductor on the Smith's Creek yards. He came to Wilmington from Savannah, Ga., about five months ago and had won many friends in this city since that time.

Mr. Grady was a native of Fayetteville, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Grady, of that city. He was 28 years of age and is survived by his father and mother and several brothers.

The remains were carried to Fayetteville last night, accompanied by the grief-stricken father, who came down for the purpose, and Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Winner, with whom he made his home here, and also by a committee of six, from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, of which order he was a member. The members of the committee who served as pall-bearers to the station, were Messrs. M. C. Clemmons, H. L. Johnson, R. E. Pitt, J. S. Shepard, S. D. Corbett and J. P. Howell

Funeral of Mrs. Chadbourn

The funeral of Mrs. Adelaide S. Chadbourn, wife of Mr. W. H. Chadbourn, whose death occurred at the family residence, No. 307 Market street, Monday night, will be held from the First Presbyterian church this morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. J. M. Wells, the pastor, will conduct the services and the interment will be made in Oakdale cemetery.

Wallingford Tomorrow

Tomorrow at Plummer's seats will go on sale for one of the greatest comedy events in the history of the Academy, in fact one of the very greatest of all theatrical events, in the offering "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford." The press of Charlotte lavished praise on the attraction, the Charlotte Observer having this to say:

"That ever mirth-provoking play, 'Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford,' was presented for the first time last night to a Charlotte audience and a large one at that. Cohanesque in its abounding ginger and humor, and original in its adaptation from the famous Wallingford stories, the production is one of the most unique and as well as one of the most entertaining of modern plays. It was capably presented here and kept the audience in a titter of laughter, what time it was not waiting for the curtain to rise.

"To take as material a pair of clever but conscienceless confidence men, exhibit them to an audience of clean, honest, square and above-board Americans and win the tolerant good-will of those same unexceptionable ladies and gentlemen while engaged in refined highway robbery is a daring—one would say an impossible—thing to do. And yet Cohan is in a fair way to do this very thing when, fortunately for the audience's later good opinion of itself, he projects into the center of the stage a winning young woman, with a head on her shoulders, old-fashioned ideas of honesty and no end of pluck. And after she cooly calls the turns on the wise gentry and puts them on notice that it would be well for them if their walk and conversation is above reproach and the approving thrills titillate up and down the spinal columns of the auditors, they settle back in their seats with more confidesce in their own adherence to the tenets of moral rectitude and in the instinctive belief that after all the play is not heading toward the moral shoals technically known as the demnition bow-wows. Theatre-going and newspaper-reading America, knows the story how Wallingford and his understudy, his man Friday, or his friend, Dr. Watson, as it were, turn their talents into honest channels and enrich both themselves and their friends almost in spite of themselves.

"Joseph Manning's is the leading role, that of Wallingford. His work was very good, and consistent throughout with his conception of the role, though one may raise the question whether the shading is not too broad, whether the characterization does not tend to the over-obvious. The answer to this criticism would probably take account of the fact that the opposing characters are distinctly rural and provincial and hence more gullible. Wallingford easing mazuma from the pockets of really acute business men would without doubt be a different individual.

"Edward Delaney as Wallingford's partner, played the role with fidelity. William Solar, as Willie, the office boy, was among the characters remembered in the fire-side reviews of the play. George Phillips in the part of the mayor showed himself a finished actor. Jim P. Connery, as Clint Harkins, reporter on The Blade, portrayed very well the manner in which a reporter of that class would act, if there were any such. Miss Rose Lubonn as Fannie Jasper, the stenographer's daughter who weds Wallingford, was excellent. And the show would never in the world be the same without the inimitable, crescendo merriment of Miss Olive Artelle. In a word, the standard of talent exhibited was creditable throughout the cast."

Popular Prices Next Week

The announcement for next week at the Academy of Music is the Carleton Sisters Associate Players, a repertoire organization consisting of a dozen people, who are well-known to the South and are making this, their banner tour with one of the strongest companies of this class that have been here in some time, according to the advance notices from adjacent towns. The opening play, a Western comedy drama creation from the pen of John C. Kaiser, in four acts, entitled "The Whirlpool," will pbe presented Monday night and it can truthfully be said that the Carleton Sisters Company give a complete production of this most exacting play. A change of play will be given each night, and a line of plays never before seen in Wilmington is promised. Specialties between the acts will be interpolated by the Carleton Sisters, Nelly Lyons, Heal, Russell Dunn and Boby Parkinsen. Ladies free Monday night with first two hundred seats sold. Tickets on sale Saturday at Plummer's.

The Bijou.

Aye, the Bijou is the great place for fun and novelty, and for novel fun, too, it might be added. Two of the greatest smile pictures are on the menu today and they will be received with shouts of joy. One is a decidedly unique creation in Lubin's "Kissing Pills," A crank doctor discovers a "kissing pill" and in order to get it upon the market he distributes samples. Consequently, as the pellets produce a big appetite for kissing, there is mighty and widespread osculation in progress, which will cause the onlookers to howl. Another big joy photoplay is "General Daft," depicting in most absurd style how a yong college youth is mistaken for an escaped lunatic, and he becomes "General Daft", while the household, thinking him crazy, humors him. It's a peach for smiles. There are other jolly films and also one of the biggest dramatic sensations of the day in Kalem's masterpiece, "Driving Home the Cows," It revolves around a youth who goes to war and falls wounded on the battlefield. It is a story that will thrill with its war scenes, and yet appeal to the tenderest emotions by the simplicity of the home life of the youth's parents, who have lost two sons in war.

At The Grand

While we often say that the films presented at The Grand are features, today is an exception even to this rule, as two of the films to be presented are the best that have been shown in some time. A Selig production, "The Prosecuting Attorney," heads the list, and this is a vivid dramatic story, picturing noble self-sacrifice. A large cast of characters is needed to produce this elaborate story and it is well done by the Selig Compaony's performers. It deals with the courts, mission work and prison life, with Lewis, the prosecuting attorney the leading man and of course, gets the big reward—the girl. "The Price of Ambition" is a Kalem picture showing some very pretty scenic pictures of the old Missions as featured by this company and is a very pretty Spanish romance. Mr. Morgan will present a beautiful selection from his extensive repertoire, and all in all, today will be a banner day to close out the first month of 1912.

AWARDS BADGES

Col. Thos. D. James to receive 30-Year Service Gold Medal

In a special dispatch to The Star from Raleigh Monday night, it was announced that one of the North Carolina National Guard who is to receive a 30-year service gold badge is Col. Jas. I. Metts. It should have been T. C. James, who has been in the State militia service for 30 years or more.

These medals will be awarded under a general order issued by Adjutants General R. L. Leinster, October 28th, 1911. The order announces that for the purpose of rewarding, in a measure, members of the North Carolina National Guard "for long and faithful service" badges will be awarded to those officers and enlisted men who have served long periods in the State service. Those who have served from 10 to 15 years will receive bronze medal; those who have served from 15 to 20 years will receive a silver badge; service from 20 to 25 years will merit a silver badge with one silver bar and a gold badge will be awarded to those who have served 25 years or more, with a gold bar added for every five years additional service over 25 years. It was one of the latter badges to which Col. James is entitled. All badges have been received by General Leinster a. Raleigh and are being sent out from there.

MISS MAY GOODWIN DEAD.

Passed Away at James Walker Memorial Hospital Monday.

Miss A. May Goodwin, of Ithaca, N. Y., who has been spending the Winter in this city, died Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, following an illness of several weeks. Miss Goodwin made her home at 120 South Fifth street, and she suffered an attack of appendicitis two weeks ago. She went to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where she was operated on, and where she grew steadily worse until her death ensued.

The deceased was a young woman of noble Christian character and had won many friends while in the city. Her relatives at Ithica have been notified and will arrive this morning on an early train to accompany the remains back to that city. A short funeral service will be held at the chapel at the funeral parlors of the M. H. Brimmer Company this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist Church, will conduct the service. The remains will be taken to Ithica on the 7 o'clock northbound train today.

ISLAND GRAB INQUIRY

England About to Take Possession of Palmyra, Is Report

Washington, Jan. 30.—Rumors that Great Britain intended to take possession of Palmyra Island (in reality a group of 50 islets), lying about 600 miles southwest of Hawaii and almost in a direct line between Australia and the Panama canal, resulted in the subject being made a matter of unofficial inquiry in the State Department today. Officials professed ignorance of any issue being raised as to the ownership of the island, but admitted that title was vague.

Palmyra Island, discovered in 1852 by an American shipmaster, was proclaimed part of the kingdom of Hawaii in 1882 and was annexed by Great Britain in 1889.

The question at issue is whether the British annexation cancelled the prior Hawaiian title, for if it did not, then Palmyra Island would probably be held to have been annexed to the United States in 1898.

A Girl's Wild Midnight Ride.

To warn people of a fearful forest fire in the Catskills a young girl rode horseback at midnight and saved many lives. Her deed was glorious but lives are often saved by Dr. King's New Discovery in curing lung trouble, coughs and colds, which might have ended in consumption or pneumonia. "It cured me of a fearful cough and lung disease," writes W. R. Patterson, Wellington, Tex., "after four in our family had died with consumption, and I gained 87 pounds." Nothing so sure and safe for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

TO LECTURE AT CLEMSON.

Dr. Karl Moench Will Speak Before College Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Karl Moench, of this city, has received a very flattering invitation to give three lectures before the student body at Clemson College under th auspices of the college Y. M. C. A. and he will leave here Friday to deliver the lectures on Saturday, Sunday and Monday nights, returning to this city to take up his regular duties on Wednesday. The general secretary of the Clemson Y. M. C. A. is an old student and an especial friend of Dr. Moench and he looks forward to having a most pleasant visit. He will speak on "Twentieth Century Philosophy and Its Present Bearing on Religious Conditions," on Saturday night; on Sunday night he will speak on "Mormons and Mormonism from Personal Observations" and on Monday night on "The New Germany as Seen Last Summer." Dr. Moench is a deep student and a man of the highest educational attainments and his talks will no doubt be heard with much interest and benefit by the Clemson students. The student body of Clemson College numbers about 850 and the Clemson Y. M. C. A. is said to be the finest college Y. M. C. A. in the United States.

Tis is an important occasion and everybody is invited to attend. The members of the church are especially requested to be present.

DINNER TO CARDINAL FARLEY.

Non-Denominational Reception Tendered American Cardinal.

New York, Jan. 30.—Men in all walks of life and of varying religious beliefs were represented tonight among prominent residents who tendered a dinner to Cardinal Farley as a token of esteem in which the new member of the sacred college is held by the non-Catholic population of the city. The dinner was the last in a series of tributes to the cardinal since his return from Rome. The cardinal function was noteworthy for the inclusion in its programme of the reading of a letter from President Taft voicing American appreciation of the appointment of three more American cardinals, and paying tribute to the worth of the recipients of the honor, and for an address in honor of the guest of the evening by Governor Dix, of New York.

"The non-denominational character of the dinner," said President Taft in his letter, addressed to Herman A. Metz, the toastmaster, "is an indication of the great progress which has taken place in American society in the direction of mutual tolerance and of the closer brotherhood among those who support and maintain different religious faiths and organizations.

"In its sturdy opposition to anarchistic doctrine and its powerful support of law and order and constituted authority, all non-Catholics may properly express a high appreciation of the good influence of the Catholics in our community. That the head of the Church should honor its American branch by the appointment of three more American cardinals is naturally a source of pride to all Americans who are glad to note the advancement to such eminence of able, deserving and worthy countrymen of theirs."

The President concluded with a request for the presentation of his compliements and felicitations to Cardinal Farley, "with whose friendship," he said, "I have been honored for a number of years."

An illuminated set of resolutions expressing the esteem in which the cardinal is held by the committee on arrangements for the banquet, was presented by Dr. Edwin Zimmerman, the committee's secretary.

WOULD A SOLDIER BE

Balks at Physical Examinations And Will Become Nurse

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 30.—A comely young woman, who admitted her name to be Gladys Glendenning, of Ishpeming, Mich., dressed in male attire, called at the United States Army recruiting station here today, gave her name as Charles Johnstone and declared she wanted to enlist in the army.

Her hair had been shingled and she wore a new suit of clothes. The recruiting sergeant filled out the necessary blanks for her enlistment and then told her to step into an adjoining room for a physical examination. She entered the room, where she was told to remove her clothing.

She hesitated, stammered and blushed, then began to cry. She then admitted that she was a girl.

She said that her sweetheart was an artilleryman stationed at the Presidio, Cal. She declared she wanted to enlist and be assigned to his company. She was advised to seek appointment as a nurse in the official corps, and today she left for San Francisco with that intention.

St. Petersburg, Russia, Jan. 30.—The Russian Emperor has granted a pension to the widow of Tolstoi, who, hereafter, will receive 10,000 roubles ($5,000) annually.

HOBBY NIGHT CELEBRATION

Men Rode Favorite Hobbies at Press Club Dinner

Washington, Jan. 30.—Five men of National and international prominence were given an opportunity tonight to ride their favorite hobbies in the annual Hobby Night Celebration of the National Press Club, of Washington.

Secretary of State Knox talked about the arbitration treaties and world peace. His views were reflected by Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador who followed him. The ambassador, however, dealt more particularly with the newspaper reading mania of the world, declaring that perhaps it might be better for various governments "to impose a special tax on editorial articles" to prevent future generations from getting too much in the habit of having their opinions formed for them.

Dr. M. S. Stratton, chief of the Bureau of Standards, introduced as the man "who handles the yard stick and bushel basket of the Nation," described the growth of a scientific system of weights and measures.

Victor Herbert, the composer, gave a cello recital, his first performance on the instrument in a dozen years. Detective William J. Burns told some anecdotes of newspaper activity in the Ruef bribery cases in San Francisco and the McNamara case.

John Temple Graves, the starter of the evening's races, which were divided into ten minute heats, closed the programme with the entreaty that the spirits of George Washington and the Ananias Club be commingled hereafter in newspaper writing.

MILLS ADJUDGED BANKRUPT.

Receivers Appointed for Large Mills at Spray, N. C.

Greensboro, N. C., Jan. 30.—The Spray Woolen Mills and the Rhode Island Cotton Mills, of Spray, N. C., were adjudged bankrupt upon their own petition in the United States Court here today. Judge Boyd named J. Elwood Cox and E. D. Pitcher as receivers for the two mills, with authority to keep them running.

In the schedule filed with the petition the total liabilities of the Rhode Island Mills were given at $435,000, with assets of $398,000, and for the Spray Woolen Mills the liabilities were $240,000, with assets of $237,000. Of this amount there was an aggregate unsecured indebtedness of $284,000. Marshall Field & Company, of Chicago, are the principal creditors. The two mills involved are of the group in and about Spray for which the American Warehouse Corporation was the holding company, and their failure follows bankruptcy proceedings against the holding company and allied properties, the German-American and Lily Cotton Mills. The litigation is one of the largest in the history of the State and involves more than $4,000,000.

IS IT ILLEGAL MONOPOLY?

Aluminum Company of America Discusses the Matter

Washington, Jan. 30.—In an effort to prove that the Aluminum Company of America, a $20,000,000 concern, is not an illegal monopoly in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, representatives of that corporation today discussed with assistant to the Attorney General Fowler, the Federal government's recent investigation of the company. The corporation was represented by President Arthur V. Davis and General Counsel Gordon, of Pittsburg. The investigation covered the company's ownership of large deposits of lauusite, the base of the metal aluminum, in Georgia, Alabama, and Arkansas; the absorption of a chemical refining company in East St. Louis, Illinois, and its manufacture of utensils, to determine whether or not a monopoly exists.

TOLD OF "SPOILS SYSTEM."

Lorimer Described His Part in Distributing Offices.

Washington, Jan. 30.—With a vivid description of his part in distributing offices in his section of Chicago, Senator Lorimer today concluded his testimony before the Senate Lorimer investigating committee. Senator Kern had insisted that the Senator tell of the "spoils system" of political organization in Illinois. Mr. Lorimer estimated that a candidate for Congress could conduct a "fairly lively" campaign, with brass bands, advertising and mailing for $10,000. The salary of Congressmen is now $7,500 and was formerly $5,000.

Florida Grows Many Kinds of Oranges and Grapefruit — Some for Every Season

Not only are Florida oranges and grapefruit more juicy and better flavored than any other, but they are produced in many kinds, each of seasonable value.

Other citrus-fruit countries have been able to grow only two or three different types of oranges and grapefruit, and the entire crop is of these types, regardless of season.

Florida fruits are to be had in types and varieties that are just as seasonable as apples—you wouldn't buy summer apples in fall, or winter kinds in summer.

Buy Florida oranges and grapefruit by the box, to secure the best quality, and be sure the box has on it in big red letters the mark of the Florida Citrus Exchange. Every box with this mark contains fruit of known quality and recipe booklet, merchandise coupons, etc. (Booklet without coupon will be mailed for four cents in stamps by Florida Citrus Exchange, Tampa, Florida).

DAY'S DOINGS IN RALEIGH

Tax Assessment Hearing Before Commission—Elections—Dr. Joyner Returns—New Corporations Chartered.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 30.—There was a lengthy hearing today before the Corporation Commission in the tax assessment appeal of G. G. Valentine & Brothers, of Richmond, Va., from Cherokee county, involving the assessment made by the county commissioners on 160 acres of land that the Valentines own in the town of Murphy. Here representing the interests of the Valentines, as counsel, are S. J. Doswell, Richmond, and W. M. Bell, of Murphy. The interests of the county commissioners of Cherokee are being looked after by E. B. Norvell. There were numbers of witnesses examined as to the lands and their value and the hearing continued throughout the forenoon, the commission reserving its ruling in the case.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State superintendent of public instruction, returned today from New York, where he went to attend a meeting of the Rockefeller Sanitation Commission, of which he is a member, and which has for its special purpose the administration of the million dollar fund that Jno. D. Rockefeller set aside for use in the eradication of hookworm disease from the Southern States.

Very little if any improvement, is reported in the condition of State Librarian M. O. Sherrill, who is suffering from a fractured leg, sustained in falling on the ice two weeks ago. His great nervousness and weakened condition give rise to the most grave fears as to his ultimate recovery. The injury was the fracture of the stump of the leg he lost in the Civil War.

Charters are issued for the Cradford-McGill Grocery Co., of Lexington, capital $25,000 by W. L. Crawford, M. T. McGill and others, and the Mount Pleasant Mercantile Co., of Mt. Pleasant, Cabarrus county, capital $50,000 by Alonzo Blackwilder and others.

Directors of the Central State Hospital for the Insane here today elected Dr. J. L. Picot superintendent, to succeed the late Dr. James McKee, and Dr. O. P. Coppedge, second assistant physician. There were four other candidate for the place, Dr. C. L. Jenkins, first assistant physician; Dr. J. W. McNeill, Fayetteville; Dr. W. H. Hunter, Winterville, and Dr. Cotten, formerly of Wilmington. Dr. Picot has for several years been second assistant physician at the State Hospital. Before coming to the State hostal Dr. Picot was a practicing physician at Littleton and was an active member of the board of directors of the State Hospital, taking a deep interest in the affairs of the institution.

The Valentines, of Richmond, proprietors of the famous Valentine meat juices, won out today in a hearing before the Corporation Commission in which they demanded a reduction of the tax assessment on 16 acres of land they own in the town of Murphy, Cherokee county. The local board of assessors and county commissioners had assessed it at $50,000. In the hearing today the Valentines through their counsel insisted that they would take $30,000 cash for the property and insisted that the assessment should not be more than this. The Cherokee commissioners, through E. B. Norvell, maintained that the land was easily worth the $50,000 assessment, but they could not overcome the proposition of the owners to take $30,000. Therefore, the commission made the order cutting the assessment to $30,000.

GRANVILLE COUNTY NOTES.

Oratorical Association—The Boys' Corn Club Work.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Oxford, N. C., Jan. 30.—The Granville County Oratorical Association held its first public contest in the Oxford graded school building on the night of the 27th. Six schools were represented as follows: Horner Military School, Richard Lanier; Oxford Graded School, Elliott Cooper; Creedmoor High School, Thomas Moss; Stem High School, Roy Giles; Stovall, Earl Spicer; Howard, Ethel Daniel.

The declamations of all were of a high order and received many favorable comments from the large audience that gathered to witness this important event. The judges awarded the medal for the best declamation to Elliot Cooper, of the Oxford school. The association is planning to hold some debates after the Spring opens up.

Prof. N. W. Walker has been in the county several days inspecting the county high schools.

Mr. Frank Parker, member of the State Department of Agriculture, and assistant in the boys' corn club work, will spend a few days in the county this week in the interest of this work. He will visit several of the schools and assist in the enrollment of the members of the clubs. The distribution of the county prizes will be arranged on a different plan for this year and a renewed interest is anticipated. A prize will be given for the best yield in the county, and the remainder of the money raised for this purpose, about $75, will be awarded to the township clubs making the best average with five boys. These township clubs are to be organized with strong leaders who will raise money for prizes in the several townships. The rivalry brought about and the interest kept up by these community leaders promises to keep things lively along this line.

INQUIRY INTO EXPRESS RATES.

Express Companies May Receive Grilling From Commission.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Inquiry into the rates, classifications, regulations and practices of express companies, begun by the Inter-State Commerce Commission several weeks ago, will be resumed here tomorrow. The commission is endeavoring to determine whether reasonable express rates and whether existing rates and methods of the companies should be changed.

Inspectors of the commission have gathered an immense amount of data relating to the express business, including the analysis of millions of rates. The hearing probably will continue for several days, as officials of nearly all of the important express companies will be questioned.

THE DAY AT KINSTON

Gov. Kitchin to Deliver Memorial Address—Youthful Blind Tiger

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Jan. 30.—The local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy has secured Governor W. W. Kitchin to deliver the memorial address in this city on the 10th of May.

The police here are conducting a rigorous campaign against small boys with small calibre rifles who violate the city ordinances against fierarms, as the result of several narrow escapes of residents of the outlaying districts recently. A lady in Northeast Kinston, feeling the wind from a flobert as it passed her face, became cognizant of the fact that her coiffure was disarranged, and putting her hands to her head, discovered that her hair had been literally shot down and was hanging down her back. Catching a fleeing glance of an urchin with a rifle, she reported the matter to the police. Shahane Taylor, a popular lad of the city, was accidentally shot in the leg. A close shave was had by two men in Mitchelltown, and several other like incidents were reported. The police now have orders to arrest every boy or man who fires a shot in the city limits.

Mayor LaRoque, after having observed suspicious movements on the part of Egbert Heath, a white youth, and several others in a livery stable in which he happened to be at the time, unknown to Heath and his companions, overheard bartering for a sale of whiskey by Heath to the others, and issued a warrant for the boy's arrest. When arrested Heath was found to have a considerable amount of whiskey on his person. He was remanded to jail to await Superior Court, in default of $200 bond. Heath had previously been convicted for selling liquor and sentenced to six months, with leave to hire out.

Bishop Strange will visit Kinston on February 11th, for the purpose of celebrating the rite of confirmation at St. Mary's and St. Augustine's churches, the latter a colored congregation. His visit is looked forward to with pleasure by Episcopalians and other denominations alike.

ONSLOW COUNTY TEACHERS

Held Interesting and Profitable Session at Jacksonville Saturday

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Jacksonville, N. C., Jan. 30.—The Onslow County Teachers' Association held their regular monthly meeting Saturday in the Court House here. Devotional exercises conducted by Rev. P. D. Woodell opened the meeting who made a short talk to the teachers present.

Following Mr. Woodell, President H. M. Logand and Superintendent Walter M. Thompson made appropriate remarks and suggestions to the teachers. Mr. A. W. Cooper presented a discussion on geography, in which he explained his method of teaching this important subject.

After Mr. Cooper's discussion, Mr. N. E. Day discussed the causes of the Civil War, attempting to show how it was not the result of any one institution but that it was brought about by a number of contributing causes, one leading logically to the other.

Then Miss Hattie Blackmon took up the subject of reading, and illustrated her method of teaching this subject. She used an apt illustration and her discussion of the subject showed deep thought and preparation.

After the rendition of this programme Supt. Thompson announced that at the next meeting of the teachers a reception and banquet will be tendered them. Arrangements are being made to secure the presence of some of the leading educators of this State. Tis meeting will be held on Saturday, March 2nd. On the night of March 1st the Onslow-Jones declamation contest will be held here and quite a number of representatives of the schools from Onslow and Jones counties will participate in competition for a handsome gold medal.

STEEL TARIFF BILL

Fight Over Bill Will Begin in Senate Today.

Washington, Jan. 30.—A fight over the question of instructing the Senate Finance Committee to report back the steel tariff revision bill within a fixed time will be made tomorrow before the measure is referred to the committee for its consideration. The regular Republicans in the Senate are for granting hearings to those interested, but the "progressive" Republicans favor a reasonable time for the committee to consider the bill.

Senator Reed, of Missouri, tomorrow will ask the Senate to refer the bill to the finance committee, with instructions to report within 20 days. He sought ineffectually to force this fight when the bill was reported from the House. The question of reference went over until tomorrow.

Republican senators and representatives held individual conferences today over the situation in the Senate, at which the prospective position of the Progressive Republicans was discussed. It was pointed out that with the Senate membership now standing at 49 Republicans, 42 Democrats, one vacancy, the defection of only four Progressives from the Republican line would be all that would be necessary to pass the bill. A number of the Progressives have indicated that they will stand just where they did in the tariff fights of the extra session.

WHEN HIS VOICE CHANGED

"My 15-year-old son," says Mrs. I. C. Sherman, whose home is in Brooklyn, "caught a bad cold just when his voice was changing and could not get rid of it for about a year. Vinol was the only medicine that did him any good and it was just what he needed to drive his cough away and build up his strength."

If he had taken Vinol sooner, he would have been spared a whole lot of annoyance and suffering.

Bronchitis—cough is simply a sign of bodily weakness. When you build up the bodily strength and enrich the blood with Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil, the cough is bound to disappear.

It is really the only natural and right way to get rid of these bronchial coughs that hang on so long.

In all weakened and run-down conditions of the body, whether in men, women or children, Vinol is exactly what is needed to bring back strength. We guarantee to give back your money if Vinol does not help you. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

DUNN NEWS NOTES

Death of Mrs. Turnage—A Marriage—Another Banker Cooper

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Dunn, N. C., Jan. 30.—Mrs. J. W. Turnage, wife of Deputy Sheriff Turnage, died yesterday afternoon and will be buried this afternoon at the family burying ground near town. Mrs. Turnage is a sister of Mr. J. J. Wade, who died severdl weeks ago, and will be missed by her friends and neighbors, for she was a woman of the same strong character as her brother, and one who helped and encouraged those who needed that help which only good woman can give. She had been sick for some weeks but her death came as a surprise to the town as she was reported very much improved.

Miss Janie Bell, daughter of our townsman, Mr. B. J. Bell, was married to Mr. Norman Yates, of Carpenter, N. C., on last Sunday night, Rev. L. A. Arnold, of the Christian church, officiating. Mr. Yates is operator for the A. C. L. at this place. He has made a number of friends since he came to town. The bride has a host of friends and relatives who wish her all of the happiness possible.

Mr. P. S. Cooper, president of the First National Bank of Dunn, was elected a director in the First National Bank of Waycross, Ga., a few days ago. Mr. Cooper seems to belong to a family of bankers, as he has five brothers who are bank presidents. His brother, W. B. Cooper, is president of the American National Bank of Wilmington; L. J. Cooper is president of the First National Bank of Waycross, Ga.; W. H. Cooper is president of the Merchants and Planters Bank of Mullins, S. C.; W. H. Cooper is president of U. S. Savings Bank of Washington, D. C., and Thos. E. Cooper is president of the Bank of Southport, The Citizens Bank of Mt. Olive and the bank of Loris, S. C. And he has one other brother who is a lawyer and a preacher.

BANNER HOG OF SAMPSON

Mr. J. L. Autry, of Autryville Killed One Big As Mule

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Autryville, N. C., Jan. 30.—From all reports in at this time the honor of raising the biggest hog in the State goes to Capt. J. L. Autry, of Clement, near here. The hog was killed yesterday and weighed in the presence of the following gentlemen who testified as to the weight being 1,010 pounds after being fully dressed: Messrs. C. F. Autry, J. B. Autry, G. Gainey, J. L. Sutton and D. W. Hall. Sampson has pinned the blue ribbon on herself and any comers who wish to contest for State honors can come forward with proof of the facts when they will be given due hearing.

A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that not many months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling may start after the evening meal. If a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed.

Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed you want it at hand. No family that is careful of its health can do without such a remedy. But the question of which remedy to have on hand is also of vast importance.

The laxative most highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a liquid laxative-tonic, mild, and never gripes, is effective on robust people and can be given with safety to an infant. Children like it because of these gentle qualities and because it is pleasant to the taste.

It is the best all-around remedy you can have in the house for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, and many people like Mrs. Lydia E. Thomas, Calhoun, Ga., and D. H. Harburg, 251 W. Wade St., Charlotte, N. C., say they would as soon be without the necessities as without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one months, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Taft's trip to Ohio may be in the nature of an innocent bystander.

The Presidential campaign resembles a South Carolina primary.

Cheer up, if you are not in politics where the ghouls can dig up your past.

How can a candidate be a liar when he hasn't said so very much to be disputed?

The question is, can Taft explain it to the satisfaction of consumers in Ohio?

To get in a wrangle with a Presidential candidate is a short cut to notoriety.

Whenever a State acknowledges that it has a Favorite Son, it will be expected to provide for his support.

No doubt Teddy is sorry he promised to keep quiet. The opportunity for not keeping quiet was never greater.

Verily, verily a candidate's main hope is having a wife who won't believe a thing she hears on him during the campaign.

So far, not a one of the candidates has been accused of being in the dynamite campaign of the McNamaras and the McManigals.

What Wilmington needs is as much publicity as a Presidential candidate gets when it is found out that the interests can't control him.

In New Zealand the men have wood chopping and wood sawing contests. A Wilmington man would sit on the fence and laugh at such sport as that

By the way, will Baltimore have enough convention money left to increase her police force when the Democrats "get together" on the 28th of June?

The McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft "Democratic" papers have butted into a fight in which they are furnishing the rocks for the enemy of Democracy.

The trusts can pick out the Presidential nominee whose campaign manager will get the call on their money He won't be any of the Democratic eligibles.

The Columbia State remarks: "A Pennsylvania judge has decided that three fingers are worth $40,000." That looks somewhat remunerative but three fingers are worth more than that to some politicians when they can get all three in the pie.

Such assertions as "absolutely untrue," "you're another," "somebody lies," and the like, were expected as soon as the campaign opened. At the same time, the gentlemen should reserve to the last the use of such expressions as "incorrible scoundrel" and "infamous mandacity."

It looks strange that there should have to be campaigning to convince the farmers of the necessity of the Rock Hill plan for preventing an overproduction of cotton. If the farmers do not recognize the wisdom of curtailment of cotton acreage, six cent cotton will prbably be more convincing next October.

Says the Atlanta Constitution: "With all America for a witness, the self-respect and manhood of the Southern States are on trial at the bar of the world's judgment." They can go right on with the trial, but nothing short of an injunction will keep our self-respect and manhood fro... asserting itself. By George, we'll prove the incredibility of the witness.

WHO'S LIED, NOW?

The Watterson-Wilson controversy has reached a point where it is getting tiresome, but we have to keep up with it as a seeker after truth. In the course of an unpleasant event we have been led on several occasions to keep our eyes skinned for disclosures. It was disclosures we were after from start to finish, but we have been forced to be an unwilling spectator of a desultory rag chewing affair. However, the rag has been chewed mostly at one end.

Let's go back to the beginning for an analysis of a situation in which, if Col. Henry Watterson has injured the chances of Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency, he has at the same time demonstrated that the distinguished Kentucky editor got into the mess while he was endeavoring to get Big Business identified with Woodrow Wilson's Presidential boom. If the halo of Wilson has been the least bit dimmed, the laurels of Col. Watterson have been withered, for the truth is that in attempting to expose Wilson for "ungratefulness" to Col. Harvey, Col. Watterson has exposed himself for having had a leading part in an effort to use Thos. F. Ryan's barrel to influence the nomination of Woodrow Wilson.

According to Col. Watterson's own reiterated statements he suggested the benevolent aid of Thomas F. Ryan's pile, and according to his own statements Wilson feared the Greeks even though they brought gifts. There doesn't seem to be any lie out on either side as to that feature of the controversy. The row apparently started out over the alleged "ungratefulness" of Wilson in bluntly confessing to Col. Harvey that he thought the aggressive support of Harper's Weekly was injuring his candidacy. It was an honest answer to a pointed question put by Col. Harvey, but as the controversy dragged along, we observe that the real ungratefulness of Woodrow Wilson was in refusing to let Col. Watterson queer his candidacy by roping him in with Ryan's money. In the first instance he appeared ungrateful for refusing to let Harper's Weekly queer his candidacy and in the second instance he threw the fat in the fire by declining to permit either one of his supposed "friends" tie him up with Wall Street interests, with which Harper's Weekly seems to be in accord.

We admit it with sorrow and horror. Wilson was closeted at the Manhattan Club with two "friends," Colonels Harvey and Watterson, both distinguished editors. No doubt it was charming company, but were those two men friends of Woodrow Wilson? It seems that when he gave evidence of the fact that they could not control him or commit him to their plutocratic friends, they ceased to be his friends. In the rift of the clouds as the storm breaks through them, we see the reason why all this great friendship was ingloriously disrupted. Woodrow Wilson deceived his two friends by refusing to let them "fix" him where he never would have been his own man should he become President.

We think all the gentlemen are mistaken in calling each other liars. There may be some differences in their statement of all the facts, but the concrete truth to be gathered is that Wilson was tendered "sugar" from the barrel of Big Business and that Wilson declined the saccharine, whereupon at least one if not both of his "friends" became possessed of righteous indignation because they realized that they could not make a President while you wait. We can't see where the lie comes in, but there is some more truth than might be mentioned. It is true that as soon as Wilson fought shy of the benevolent contribution of Wall Street money and it was seen that he was not subject to control, it was determined that he would not do for President. Hence the effort to discredit him and destroy his eligibility.

Col. Watterson's last able effort in that direction was published in yesterday's Star. It was words, words, words—fine words and well turned phrases such as Col. Watterson can use to great advantage. There was a hint of "proof" but none was disclosed in a long statement which entertained but did not convince for the absence of satisfying proof. There were vague and veiled hints of "proof" and that is exactly what the American people wanted. They are tired of inuendo. However, it doubtless is the purpose not to furnish any of that alleged "proof" at this time. It may be part of the game to can it till about the time the National Democratic Convention meets or on the eve of the National election if Woodrow Wilson is nominated. That is the way the game is generally played.

We want the "proof" against Woodrow Wilson now before we bother with his case again. We are satisfied with the proof that he was "approached" and with the proof that he "ungratefully" renigged at a time when money was ready to talk. The circumstances as to how he was "approached" have been confessed and there may be "proof" that some Ryan money looked good to some of Wilson's campaign managers. We have personally-furnished proof that Ryan lucre looked good to Col. Watterson while he was yet one of the schoolmaster's friends, but if it were no harm for it to look like gilt edged stuff to him he certainly cannot indict others for being equally susceptible to the influences of big money. Anyhow, whatever ice Ryan's money had cut before the Manhattan Club conference, and it does not appear to have been in sight up to that time, the final show down was that Wilson refused to reach out for the swag.

There is where Wilson deserves credit for refusing the proffer of Ryan money, even with so distinguished a "go-between" as Col. Watterson profferring the multimillionaire's aid. It is quite possible that no corrupt motives were involved in all this discovery of what still appears to be a mare's nest. If, however, Ryan's money were wanted or actually used, Col. Watterson was the "go-between", as he himself avers, we fail to understand where he expects to get any glory for himself by furnishing proof of a transaction in which he was one of the principals.

That is what's worrying us. The people want their elections and government officials free of the influence of aggregated wealth, whether it comes from Democratic or Republican representatives of Big Business, yet while knowing that and realizing the evil influences of money control in this government, Col. Watterson should have been the last man to suggest Ryan money in Wilson's campaign. We are sorry he was thus involved in this affair. We are glad Woodrow Wilson either previously or finally declined finances from a source which may have been legitimate but questionable. We are sorry that in seeking to do injury to Wilson Col. Watterson has done injury to himself, and that in persisting in his efforts to destroy Wilson he cannot get away from the lamentable fact that he was the man who talked for Ryan's money and is as deep in the mire as Wilson, if there is any mire in it.

Neither Col. Watterson nor Dr. Wilson have stolen anything. They differ as to what "ungratefulness" is and as to what is true and what isn't. It is time to let up, and quit hiding the proof, which, if it convicts Wilson will do the same for Watterson. The overshadowing truth and pre-eminent feature of the episode is that Wilson stands before the American people as the man who refused to place himself under obligation to his friends with a pull in the financial district.

THE ROCK HILL PLAN

The Star on numerous occasions has urged curtailment of the cotton acreage as the most practicable and surest way to regulate the size of the cotton crop and remedy the calamity of low prices. For that reason we have heartily endorsed the "Rock Hill Plan" which was suggested by Col. J. G. Anderson, of Rock Hill, S. C., and adopted, after amendment, by the Southern Cotton Congress. Col. Anderson is president of the Rock Hill Buggy Company, of Rock Hill, S. C., and we know him to be not only a successful manufacturer but an able and experienced man of affairs. He has made a study of cotton production and is well posted on the industry in all its branches, as was evidenced by the adoption of his well-matured plan at the New Orleans conference of cotton growers.

The Anderson or Rock Hill plan is committed to curtailment and that was the sense of the Southern Cotton Congress when it was adopted. Curtailment of acreage and consequent reduction of the crop is the only relief in sight, and the farmers may as well face it instead of persisting in the ruinous custom of growing a crop which barely pays the cost of production. The Rock Hill plan is a plain and business-like proposition, and it takes the place of talk and inaction. It takes hold of the situation in a systematic and practicable way, and under it the growers can organize and know exactly what they are doing. Col. Anderson's plan will aid the farmers to adopt system in the place of disjointed plans, meaningless inaction and final chaos.

South Carolina has practically organized under the Rock Hill plan, which has been adopted in most every cousty. It puts the individual cotton grower under a guarantee and makes him a party to an effective plan. South Carolina produces about 1,500,000 bales, and North Carolina about 1,000,000. The farmers of both States, therefore, can well afford to reduce their acerage since the disaster to them would be proportionately great if they produced only 1,000,000 between them, should the price go to 6 cents a pound.

The Star hopes North Carolina will join in this Rock Hill plan, and an effort will be made at Raleigh tomorrow to inaugurate the movement in this State. Colonel Anderson and the Hon. E. J. Watson, of Columbia, president of the Cotton Congress, will be in Raleigh to explain the plan. In North Carolina the Farmers' Union is urging that for every acre of cotton an acre of food crops shall be planted, but while that is a good idea, there is nothing certain about it. They cannot afford to produce cotton at cost even if they should produce food crops at the same time. The Rock Hill plan should be adopted and carried out as the surest way of accomplishing a result which will make a crop of 750,000 bales worth more than a crop of more than 1,000,000 bales.

BERRY AND COTTON GROWERS.

While the farmers of North Carolina and the South generally attribute the low price of cotton more to lack of scientific distribution than they do to overproduction, it is safer this year to curtail production while inaugurating a thorough plan of distribution. When the farmers face low prices they should work on a sure method first.

All farmers now see the advantage of scientific distribution of their products, and it can be said that our eastern North Carolina strawberry growers already have a distributing plan if they will stand up to it and make it effective. The plan of the berry producers is found in the Eastern Carolina Truck & Fruit Growers' Association and they should at once put new life into that practical organization.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Some of the papers have intimated that there is a joker in Mr. Webb's bill to prevent the shipment of whiskey from wet to dry States, and if this is the case the best thing for the prohibition forces to do is to drop it.—Durham Herald.

We are told that cotton picking is going on in all directions this week as in midseason. The crop was raised in the Fall this year. We have never known such a season and it has probably never been known before.—Maxton Scottish Chief.

Colonel Roosevelt's first frost—the loss of two delegates in Oklahoma that seemed certain is now attributed to the fact that his campaign was managed by "Dynamite" Perry and "Catch-'em-Alive" Abernethy. If these names no longer prove mascots in Oklahoma the chances for Teddy are slight.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Politics is said to be seething in western North Carolina. There always has been a strong Republican element in that part of the State and not infrequently Congressional elections are too close to be comfortable. The Republicans are said to be better organized this year than for a long time, and Chairman Morehead makes the prediction that there will be some North Carolina Republicans in the House of the next Congress.—Savannah News.

Here is an astonishing statement from the Raleigh News and Observer to the effect that there are three times as many drunks in Durham as there were under saloons. We have heard that whiskey was easy to get, but had no idea it was as bad as this. The Durham Sun, discussing the matter, says that no law can be enforced unless public opinion is behind it. Quite true, but did not Durham and Durham county vote for prohibition? This is our recollection. Being close to the Virginia line makes it easy to secure liquor, but that there is three times as much drunkenness as under saloons is simply astonishing. It is worse than in Wilmington.—Greensboro Record.

George Bailey has nominated in the Houston Post General Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, for Vice President on the Democratic ticket. We would make a good one, if he would take it, and would fill the office with great distinction. Thomas R. Waring, of Charleston, has also been named for this high honor, and barring the fact that he does not live in North Carolina, which he can't help, although he goes to Kanuga Lake in the Summer time, he would make a good one also. We found him nearly four years ago, and have been keeping him before the public at stated intervals ever since. If General Carr should show the greater strength on the first ballot, we have no doubt that Mr. Waring would throw the South Carolina delegation to the splendid North Carolinian and help to put him through.—Charlotte Observer.

According to agreement arrived at in Raleigh Saturday, between Senator Simmons and Governor Kitchin, ex-Governor Aycock and Judge Clark, candidates for Senator Simmons' seat, we are to have a Senatorial primary on the day of the general election. That means, the agony is to be shortened. Every voter will be given a chance to give a lift for his man and it is a fair proposition that the candidate who gets the most votes wins. The indications are that there is going to be no great flood of campaign money turned loose, for the four candidates seem to have been of one mind on the matter of showing cards, that is, publishing a true and correct report of their campaign expenditiures. This they are to do within ten days less of the date of nomination," and again ten days after date of nomination. This sort of a programme has not before been mapped out in North Carolina. But times have changed. The readiness with which these four Senatorial candidates fell over each other on the publicity proposition is a clear indication that it is to be no boodling campaign. We are glad of it. It means the killing off of the ward heelers. In the last gubernatorial campaign there were leeches in every town in the State feeling for the blood of the candidate. Each candidate had plenty of friends, but the "ward workers" were friends for money only. They would promise big results with "expense money," but nothing at all without it. The result was that the candidates put out thousands of dollars that were not applied to legitimate work, but that went into the yawning pockets of the political grafters. The publicity feature is a good thing. We believe the sentiment which created it grew out of the grafter abuses of the past, abuses the like of which we may see no more in North Carolina.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Hospital Is Advised As Only Relief From Long Illness, But Mrs. Chance Stays at Home

Collins, Miss.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Delphinia Chance writes as follows: "I had suffered from womanly troubles, and finally I took down with a fever.

We had five different doctors, but it seemed that I could not get any better. The doctors said they had done all they could to help me, and advised me to go to the hospital.

I did not want to go, and I decided I would try Cardui. After I began to take it, I got better every day, and now I can take care of my baby, and do all my housework. I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

When I think how long my fever had lasted, and that nothing helped me, I can't begin to say enough for this great remedy. We spent nearly all we had for doctors, but they gave me no relief.

I am thankful there is a remedy for womanly troubles that will not fail."

Cardui will surely do as much for you as for the writer of the above letter, if you will only give it a fair trial.

Pure, safe, reliable, gentle—Cardui is the ideal medicinal tonic for weak, sick women. Try it.

GODWIN SENTENCED TO ROADS

Court Holds He Violated Agreement Not to Sell Whiskey—Bond of $2,000 Required—Goes to Jail in Default.

H. Mack Godwin, who for some time has conducted a business at No. 17 Princess street, and who was among the large number to enter a plea of nolo contendere in Superior Court last week in a case against him for selling whiskey, was yesterday afternoon sentenced by Judge Olive H. Allen, who is presiding this week, to 12 months on the county roads, judgment in the case having been prayed by Solicitor Henry E. Shaw, following the allegation that Godwin's clerk sold two drinks of whiskey Monday night in direct violation of the agreement he entered into at the time of the plea last week. Godwin gave notice of appeal and his appearance bond was fixed at $2,000, in default of which he went to jail, though it is expected that he will arrange bail this morning.

One of the biggest sensations of the day was sprung while W. P. Gafford, Esq., of counsel for the defendant, was on the witness stand testifying in behalf of his client. In reply to a question from ex-Mayor A. G. Ricaud, of counsel for the private prosecution, Mr. Gafford said that he had visited Godwin's place and had bought whiskey there, and on several occasions was accompanied by Mr. Ricaud. The latter remarked that he would not deny that he had drunk whiskey at Godwin's with Mr. Gafford, but that he had not, within the past 90 days. He also remarked that he meant nothing personal in bringing out this information from Mr. Gafford and Mr. Gafford assured him that he did not consider it as anything personal.

There are said to be several points of law involved in the case, and every inch of ground will be stubbornly contested. The defense will raise the question as to the effect of the plea of nolo contendere as a final judgment, and various other points will probably be raised. A formal judgment in the case will be signed by Judge Allen before the term, and he will also find the facts in the case, which will be used in the appeal to the Supreme Court.

Arrested yesterday morning on an instanter capias from Superior Court, issued upon information of Solicitor Shaw, Godwin was taken immediately to the court room. Court stopped in the midst of a burglary trial in order to investigate the Godwin matter. The agreement Godwin entered into last week, when "prayer for judgment was continued" folloing his plea of nolo contendere, was that he would not engage in the sale of intoxicants, either directly or indirectly, for 12 months, and gave bond of $300 to carry out the spirit of the agreement. Under the ruling of Judge Allen, he forfeits the bond. When Godwin was taken into court yesterday, Solicitor Shaw briefly recited the circumstances of the case and asked that judgment be entered.

Godwin retained Kellum & Loughlin, and W. P. Gafford, Esq., to appear for him. Hon. John D. Bellamy, Esq., who also appeared for the defendant when he was up last week, was out of the city yesterday. This was one reason why the defense wanted the case continued until a later date, but Judge Allen declined to wait until the return of Mr. Bellamy, remarking that it was not necessary, as the defendant had two able counsel in court.

Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau then joined Solictor Shaw in the prosecution of the case, and he called out the names of Messrs. J. A. Hearne and J. D. Cottle as witnesses. Mr. Cottle was called to the stand. In reply to questions, he testified that he went into the place formerly operated by Godwin, just west of the bank building at Front and Princess streets, shortly before 9 o'clock Monday night, with Mr. Hearne. They got what they called for—ginger ale or malt. They were asked if they wanted it straight and they replied in the affirmative. Two different glasses were given them, he said. The stuff from the ale bottle was poured into two glasses and a different liquid was poured into other glasses He said that the liquid poured into the second glasses came from a quart bottle, he said, and was taken from a sort of closet. The witness said that he did not know Mr. Godwin personally.

Pointing toward Mr. Godwin, he said: "If that is he, he was not in the place while we were in there last night." The witness said that he knew that the place had been conducted by Mr. Godwin ever since the witness came to Wilmington, four or five months ago.

On cross-examination, the witness said that he overheard some one in the place say that the establishment was still operated under the license formerly held by Mr. Godwin.

Mr. Gafford remarked to the court that this could be explained later.

A. G. Ricaud, Esq., then stated to the court that as he had been employed by private interests to appear with the prosecution in the whiskey cases, last week, he would like to ask the witness a few questions with consent of the court. Permission was granted and a number of questions were asked by Mr. Ricaud, but nothing new was brought out.

In looking over the papers in the original original case the solicitor discovered that Godwin had given bond for only $200, when it had been ordered that he give $300 bond. Mr. Gafford said that this was due to an oversight. Judge Allen had fixed the additional bond at $500, but when he learned of the error in the first bond, he increased the amount to $600, which was given, with Mr. L. J. Carter as surety. This was for the presence of the defendant at the afternoon session.

As soon as court reconvened at 2:30 o'clock the Godwin case was again called. Mr. Kellum said that the defense was in no better position than it was in the beginning of the hearing, as a subpoena issued for Fred. Griffith, a material witness for the defendant, had not been served as the witness could not be found. It was desired to prove by Griffith, Mr. Gafford said, that the defendant had disposed of the business and that Griffith had become the owner.

Judge Allen suggested that this fact

SHORT SESSION OF COUNCIL

Property Owners on Market Street Must Put Down Granolithic Sidewalks—Ordinance as to Tearing Up Sidewalks.

The City Council held one of the shortest regular sessions on record yesterday afternoon, the meeting lasting not quite one hour. The meeting was featured by the adoption of a resolution requiring all property owners on Market, between Water and 17th streets, to put down granolithis sidewalks in front of their property and the adoption of an ordinance relative to tearing up the streets to lay sewerage, water mains and other pipes.

Mayor Joseph D. Smith presided with all members in attendance, also Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, and City Attorney Herbert McClammy. Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, was not present, this being the first regular session he has missed since he was elected superintendent of health. For a rarity there were no complaints on the clerk's desk and the Council proceeded at once to the transaction of business.

Dr. Ernest S. Bulluck appeared before the board with reference to the proposition to adopt the inter-library loan system, which would enable the Wilmington Public Library to obtain almost any book published. The Council at a recent meeting authorized the board of trustees to adopt the plan, but E. S. Martin, Esq., chairman of the board, declined to vote favorably upon the proposition on the ground that it is not provided for in the constitution of the library. Dr. Bulluck said that the other two members were favorable to the plan, but did not want to act over the chairman. He appealed to the Council to do something that would enable the people in Wilmington to obtain the use of the additional books. Upon motion City Attorney McClammy was instructed to confer with Mr. Martin and report at the next meeting.

Councilman B. C. Moore reported that the health department was giving to Col. J. L. Ludlow, engineer, who is making investigation of the sewerage system, all the assistance possible. Mayor Smith remarked that Mr. Smith, of Philadelphia, one of the bondholders of the Wilmington Sewerage Co., was in the city and had stated that he would like to talk to Col. Ludlow and Mayor Smith said that he assured Mr. Smith that Col. Ludlow would be delighted to talk with him and that there was certainly no objection on the part of the city.

Councilman Perdew said that the local manager of the Postal Telegraph Co., had been to him and asked that Council take some action on the request made by him recently that the city relieve the company of any responsibility for any accident that might occur by reason of the city having its fire alarm system wires on poles of the telegraph company. Council decided that there was no action to be taken, that if any accident should occur that the company would not be held liable unless its wires caused the trouble.

Councilman Perdew asked Council to authorize Coucilman P. Q. Moore to pave Seventh street, from Red Cross to Market. Councilman Moore remarked that he would soon be in position to improve that thoroughfare. It was the understanding that he take up this work next and a formal resolution covering the matter will be offered at the next meeting.

The following resolution was offered by Councilman P. Q. Moore and unanimously adopted:

"Be it resolved by the City Council and it is hereby directed by the same, (1) That the property owners on Market street from Water street to 17th street, be required to lay granolithic sidewalks in front of their respective lots, in accordance with the provisions of Section 17, of the act of the Legislature, authorizing the city of Wilmington to issue bonds for street improvements. (2) That the Clerk and Treasurer be directed to issue proper notices as required by the act referred to, notifying property owners to lay sidewalks in conformity with said act. (3) All such sidewalks shall be subject to the inspection and approval of the city engineer."

Council adopted the following ordinance relative to tearing up streets, the Mayor not voting on the measure:

"Section 1. That all streets that have been guttered, paved and permanently improved shall not be cut into, torn up, or disfigured in any way whatsoever unless a permit is authorized by the Mayor of the city of Wilmington or the City Council; and all persons, firms or corporations contracting to do any work in laying sewerage, water mains, laterals or connections shall give bond to the city of Wilmington to replace said streets in the same condition that they were originally in before said water mains, laterals or pipes were laid, said bond to be fixed by the Commissioner of Streets of the Council of the city of Wilmington and approved by the city attorney before said work shall be begun.

"Section 2. That whenever any contractor shall have obtained permission to lay sewer pipes, or water mains, or pipes connecting or water main, or any laterals, he shall give bond to replace the street in the same condition that it was originally in before said permission was granted, and before his bond shall be relieved from liability the work must be accepted and approved by the Councilman of Streets and the engineer of the city of Wilmington.

"This ordinance is supplemental to and not intended to conflict with any other ordinance heretofore passed.

"This ordinance shall be in force from and after the 10th of February, A. D., 1912."

Coupons to the amount of $13,637.50 on municipal bonds were destroyed. $2,362.50 were on street bonds, $22.50 on water and the balance on general fund bonds.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR TRUCK

Truckers' Journal Says Acreage Same as Last Year and Yield Should be 10 Per Cent. Greater—Annual Review.

The Carolina Fruit and Truckers' Journal is out with its annual review and forecast covering the increase and decrease of strawberry acreage at practically all the important shipping points throughout the strawberry and vegetable territory of eastern North Carolina. These reports are full of interest and would indicate that the cold weather of the past few days and weeks has only toughened and hardened the vines and thereby prevented any premature vegetables such as might have otherwise been the case until the Spring-like weather blossoms forth later on. The Journal's editorial review of the situation will be of special interest to The Star's readers and it is given in full below as follows:

"We are publishing in today's Journal a most interesting symposium of views and opinions from special correspondents at practically all of the more important shipping stations throughout the trucking belt of eastern North Carolina regarding the increase or decrease in the strawberry and vegetable acreage for 1912 in comparison with 1911. From these letters and other information we are satisfied that the strawberry acreage for the approaching season will be practically the same as last year and this should mean an increase of at least 10 per cent. in the volume of shipments this year over last as the result of higher cultivation of the present acreage over previous years and the special care and consideration given by the growers to the growing vines and plants.

"In other words, the strawberry grower of today who has heretofore been gathering 50 to 75 and 100 crates to the acre is no longer content with less than 100 to 150 crates to the acre, just as the average cotton grower who was one time content to grow half a bale to the acre is no longer content with anything short of a full bale to the acre. The increased volume of shipments is not the only advantage or benefit that results from higher cultivation and more uniform fertilization, but it enables the farmer to produce and ship a higher grade of fruits which sells on the open market at correspondingly higher prices, and at a less cost of production. From higher prices better returns are realized by the grower and average profits are likewise obtained.

"All these facts combined show that the strawberry and vegetable industry of this section is gaining foothold every year and may now truthfully be said to be on a more profitable basis than ever before. As greater attention and more stress is being laid on the maximum output per acre and a higher class of fruit is produced, will the profits and benefits of the industry be increased to the growers individually and collectively, as well as the communities themselves. In the trucking belt proper our people are no longer content with one crop, some of them growing two and as many as three crops on the same soil in one year. This is where the profits come in for should one crop prove a failure the second or third is most likely to be a success.

"But for the extremely dry weather of last Summer and Fall there would have been an increase in the strawberry acreage of this territory fully 25 per cent. The prices realized last season were highly profitable to the growers and many farmers in almost every community had planned to increase their acreage more or less, but the dry weather all during the planting season of last Summer and Fall was so intense as to make it out of the question to put out with any degree of success new plants for this year's crop. The prevailing low prices of cotton have forced many of those who had abandoned the strawberry and vegetable industry to return to their first love and we are looking for another year to show a more substantial increase in the acreage.

"The present prices of cotton are such as to render it out of the question for any farmer to more than break even, and as a result we have pretty good evidence that there will be a very healthy increase in the cantaloupe, melon and potato acreage this year over last. In the green vegetable line there will not be much difference, about a normal crop being arranged for this year. Cantaloupes and melons proved a good investment last year even when people were living in anticipation of higher prices of cotton.

"Along the line of the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railroad over in Brunswick county, many strawberry plants were set late in the Fall, but owing to the dry season were set too late as to be able to produce scarcely anything this Spring all of which, however, will be at their floodtide from a producing standpoint another year. Plans for a very extensive planting of strawberries and early vegetables along the line of this road are maturing even at this time and another year will see ten if not 25 acres for every one that are in existence at this time. Many cantaloupes and melons will be planted in that section this year for the first time in the history of that county for shipment North. The lands and climate over there are both ideal for truck farming and that whole section bids fair to become a net work of truck farms from Navassa to Southport.

"Upon no other single industry is the commerce and trade of Wilmington so much dependent for its development and expansion as that of the trucking industry, not excepting cotton, and it will no doubt be a source of more or less interest and gratification among our people to know that the outlook for the approaching shipping season is so full of hope and encouragement. It furnishes a livelihood for hundreds and thousands of people and supplies the necessary 'sinews of war' for carrying forward many other plans and vocations."

HALSEY ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Burglary Charge Against Negro Boy Taken Up In Superior Court Yesterday—Trial Will Be Concluded Today

Aside from the speedily disposed of and somewhat sensational trial of State against H. Mack Godwin, as told of in another column of today's paper, only one other case of interest came up in the Superior Court yesterday, this being State against Jim Halsey, a colored boy, charged with the capital crime of burglary. When court adjourned yesterday afternoon at 5:20 o'clock all the evidence had been submitted and upon the re-convening of court this morning the attorneys will take up their arguments. The jury spent the night at the Court House in charge of Constable W. B. Savage.

The greater part of the morning was consumed in empanelling a jury for the case, which was selected from a special venire of 75 men drawn for the purpose. Woodus Kellum, Esq., and J. A. McNorton, Esq., attorneys for the defendant by appointment of the court, put up a hard fight and it was noon before the following twelve men had been selected: A. B. McNair, W. H. Darden, Jr., T. J. Gore, Norwood Orrell, J. O. Hinton, H. M. Shannon, W. E. Merritt, A. W. Pate, J. W. Brooks, T. B. Prease, L. D. Bishop and C. P. Gorman.

Mrs. Lena Workman, housekeeper for Mr. N. E. Farrow, whose room Halsey is alleged to have entered, was the first witness put on by the State. This was the beginning of the afternoon session. Mrs. Workman told of seeing Halsey come into her room, where she was sleeping with two little daughters of Mr. Farrow, on the night of December 5th, last. She stated that a lamp was burning in the room and that she was awake when the negro entered the door, in a crouching attitude. She watched the man move about the room and he was in the act of lifting a tray out of a trunk when she called for help and frightened him away. He ran out of the room and made his escape through an open window, where she presumed he had made his entrance.

The witness positively identified Halsey as the man who had entered her room. She stated that a lamp was burning at the time and that she obtained a good view of his face. He wore a hat, she said. Cross examination failed to shake Mrs. Workman on any of the points of her testimony.

Patrolman Leon George was the State's next witness. He told of a talk he had with Halsey after the negro had been arrested and sentenced to a term on the county roads for vagrancy, and he stated that the boy told him that he and a "Mr. John" were together on the night of the alleged burglary, and that "Mr. John" entered a house and got him to stay on the outside. When the man came out, Mr. George said the boy told him, he gave him a plug hat and a silver dollar, and proposed that they visit other houses. According to the officer the boy declared that he was tired and was going home, and so they parted. When he passed the home of Mr. Farrow, corner of Seventh and Chesnut streets, the boy saw "Mr. John" enter the house and a little later come out running.

Policeman B. W. Jacobs, who with Detective S. L. Branch went to the county convict camp and took Halsey from there to Mr. Farrow's residence to be identified by Mrs. Workman, stated that she declared him to be the man who had entered the house the minute she saw him. He stated that another negro had been taken to Mr. Farrow's residence, but that Mrs. Workman had declared that he was not the one who entered the house. He stated that when being taken to Mr. Farrow's residence Halsey manifested much reluctance and tried to drag back. When the house was reached, he said, and the negro was carried before Mrs. Workman, he hung his head and would not look the lady in the eye.

Jane Halsey, the prisoner's mother, was then called by the defense, and she stated that on the night of December 5th her son came home about 9 or 10 o'clock and got his supper, and that he then sat up with the other members of the family until about 11:30, when all retired. She stated that she and her daughter occupied one room of the house and the defendant and another boy by the name of Mills slept in the front room. The witness testified that some time during the night she arose and went into the boy's room to get a drink of water and that she saw her son asleep on his cot then, but she did not know what hour this was. It was some time between midnight and dawn. He was still asleep when she arose to get breakfast. She stated that Halsey was 14 years old.

Annie Halsey, the defendant's sister, was also called. She testified that she was out with a girl friend on the night of December 5th and that when she came in about 11:30 her brother was at home. She did not see him after she retired, but he was at home next morning.

Policemen George and Jacobs and Deputy Sheriff J. H. Davis, a former police officer, testified that the general characters of both the boy and the girl were known to be bad. Policeman George stated that he had had a talk with the mother of the boy several days prior to his arrest and that she told him at that time that her son was so bad she could do nothing with him and that he did not come home on the night of December 5th until between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning. This was objected to and Judge Allen ruled that it was competent to be used as contradicting the testimony of the woman, but it could not be taken into consideration by the jury in considering whether or not the boy was actually at or away from home on the night of the crime.

Halsey went on the stand and testified that he did not know anything about a "Mr. John" and that he had spoken of no such person to Officer George. He testified that he had never worn a hat in his life except the time when the officers took him to Mr. Farrow's home, and that they gave him the hat that time. He said that he went home about 10 o'clock on the night of December 5th, and that he did not leave again until 6:45 the next morning.

When all the evidence had been submitted, Judge Allen asked the attorneys whether they wished to continue with the trial or to adjourn and resume it this morning. After a conference they decided that they would prefer to adjourn at that hour.

Jim Halsey is a stocky, very black negro boy, apparently about 17 years of age. His eyes are small and set close together, his nose is flat, his lips full and his forehead sloping. He sits in stooping position and keeps his eyes fixed straight ahead for the most of the time.

Only one other case was decided yesterday. Jake Connor, colored, charged with an assault upon a female, plead guilty of simple assault and was sentenced to 30 days on the county roads.

In addition to the case against Halsey there is another burglary case on the docket to come up today, this being that of Timothy Pauley, colored, charged with entering the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Fortmann.

Everything is running along as smoothly as possible in court this week and all papers have been served through the sheriff just as rapidly as they were issued, where it was possible to get service. Constable W. B. Savage is Sheriff Cowan's main assistant in the court room this week.

It was stated in connection with the court proceedings yesterday that Judge Allen and Judge Ferguson had exchanged courts for this week. One would properly infer from the reference to the matter that the exchange was made as a matter of convenience, which is true, but it should have been stated that it was done in order to allow Judge Ferguson to be near his wife, who is ill at Salisbury. He is holding court at Statesville this week and is only a short distance from the bedside of Mrs. Ferguson.

"WEAR-EVER" DEMONSTRATION

Messrs. Peck & Holloway The Busiest Place In Town Yesterday

Things were going with a rush at the new hardware store of Messrs. Peck & Holloway all day yesterday and several hundred of the famous "Wear-Ever" aluminum sauce pans as advertised in Sunday's Star were sold during the day. Through an error in the advertisement Sunday the name of this celebrated brank of cooking utensils was reversed and made to read "Ever-Wear," but this does not in any way interfer with the sterling merits of the goods.

The sauce pans are simply a feature of the demonstration as this firm has put in a full line of this beautiful ware which will be demonstrated by Miss Howard, a factory demonstrator, all during this and next week.

Today Miss Howard will demonstrate candy making all day and will give out the candy to every one who calls at the store and is interested in the exhibit. Everyone is invited to call and sample the delicious "Fudge" as made by Miss Howard, using, of course, the "Wear-Ever" utensils in the cooking.

BRIGADE BASKETBALL

Second Game Tonight In Series to Decide Championship

There promises to be two splendid games of basketball at the Boys' Brigade armory tonight when Company B team meets Company A for the second game in a series of five for the championship for 191-12. At present Company B is ahead by one game and the boys will make every effort to win and maintain this lead, while Company A has greatly strengthened its team and will make an equally strenuous effort to capture the game and even matters up. Company B has the advantage because of team work, but Company A is composed of good players who are always hard to beat. The line-up will be: Company A—Duls and Twining, forwards; Gerdes, center; Fick and Kure, guards. Company B—Register, H., Branch and Cameron, forwards; Dixon, center; Register, E., Sholar guards.

JOHNSON-CAISON NUPTIALS AT INGOLD.

Ingold, N. C., Jan. 30.—At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Johnson, on the afternoon of January 28th, one of the prettiest weddings that was ever solemnized in this section of the State was the marriage of their daughter, Bettie, to Mr. Fred A. Caison. The wedding was very quiet, only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties being present.

The decoration scheme was beautifully carried out in green and white. The ceremony was performed under an arch of green. Rev. M. A. Smith in his usual impressive manner speaking the words that made them one. The bride was becomingly attired in white satin with pearl trimmings, with white gloves and satin shoes to match. Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered on the piano by Miss Lula Ferguson, of Currie, N. C., and Mr. Robert Johnson on the violin. During the ceremony "Hearts and Flowers" was softly played. The only attendants were Miss Olivia Johnson and Mr. E. C. Johnson. The happy couple boarded the train at Parkersburg amid showers of rice and best wishes for a happy Southern bridal tour.

RED CROSS SOCIETY MAKES STRONG APPEAL FOR AID.

Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, president of the Wilmington Chapter of the National Red Cross Society, yesterday received from Mr. Ernest P. Bicknell, a National director, the following letter with reference to the appeal of the society for contributions for the Chinese famine sufferers:

"Washington, D. C., Jan. 27, 1912.

"Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, President of Wilmington Chapter.

"Dear Madam:—President Taft, as president of the American Red Cross has published a strong appeal for relief contributions for the Chinese famine sufferers. As president of your Chapter of the Red Cross we trust you may find it possible to help the success of this appeal by enlisting the active support of the people of your community.

"All who are familiar with the situation agree that this is one of the most appalling famines which China has ever suffered. Both Imperial and Revolutionary authorities will protect the relief operations.

"Please do not hesitate to take the initiative in any local measures which may seem to you desirable. Only money contributions are required as supplies can be purchased more cheaply in Asia than here. American clothing is not acceptable as the cost of shipment is unjustified.

"Bishop Robert Strange, who lives in your city, is a member of the State Board of the Red Cross of your State. A letter has been sent him asking his help in raising the relief fund. Please confer with him in order to avoid confusion. "ERNEST P. BICKNELL,

"National Director."

The following is President's Taft's proclamation:

"As president of the American National Red Cross it becomes my imperative duty to call to the attention of the people of the United States the conditions of awful destitution which now exist in certain provinces of China. Recurrent inundations by the Yangtze and other rivers have destroyed crops and prevented the cultivation of the land. Millions of human beings are now facing starvation. An agent of the American Red Cross who has recently traveled throughout the famine districts reports conditions of starvation of the most terrible and appalling character.

"Until peace is restored in China and the functions of efficient government are established, these conditions must con tinue, save as relieved by the charitable efforts of other countries.

"The Central China Famine Relief Committee has created a strong and efficient organization with agencies established throughout the affected districts. This body, which comprises in its membership Rt. Rev. Bishop F. R. Graves, chairman; Rev. E. C. Lobenstine, secretary, and 20 or more of the leading American, European and Chinese merchants and missionaries in Shanghai, will render assistance as means may be available. Able-bodied natives will be employed in repairing dykes, canals and roads and thus enabled to support themselves until new crops can be harvested.

"In the name of humanity the Red Cross calls once more upon the American people to come to the relief of a sister nation with that prompt generosity which has never failed in time of great emergency.

"W. H. TAFT."

Contributions should be sent to Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, president of the Wilmington Chapter of the Red Cross Society.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Negroes Found Guilty of Attempted Jail-Breaking—Other Cases

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning, Fred Hennegan, Tim Pauley, Chas. Dixon and J. D. Robinson, all colored, were tried on charges of attempting to break jail, and all were found guilty. Hennegan and Robinson were sentenced to six months each on the county roads, Dixon was sentenced to three months and judgment was reserved in the case of Pauley, who is to be tried in the Superior Court on the first degree charge of burglary. Hennegan and Robinson took appeals to the Superior Court.

Dixon plead guilty to the charge and was made a witness for the State. The others plead not guilty. Dixon testified as to a plot among the men in jail to seize Jailer John Branch when he came to get the food pans, and told of the attempt, which was frustrated by Jailer Branch and a prisoner, Jim Sanders, colored, who went to the assistance of the officer.

Robinson and Hennegan will probably be tried at this term of court, and Pauley will also be tried on the charge of burglary, probably today.

G. C. Hand, a white man, was found guilty of an assault with a deadly weapon upon J. W. King, white, and was sentenced to six months on the county roads. He took an appeal to the Superior Court and bond was fixed at $200. The assault occurred Monday at the plant of the Wilmington Handle Company, following an altercation between the two men. Hands struck King over the head with an unfinished axe handle and rendered him unconscious for a short time. King was not seriously injured, however, and after his wound was dressed at the James Walker Memorial Hospital he was able to be out again.

Three ordinary "drunks" contributed the usual $5 and costs. The State was represented by W. P. Gafford, Esq., as special prosecutor in the absence of Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau, who was busy in Superior Court.

WM. B. M'KOY ESQ., HONORED

Local Masonic Lodges Pay Official and Social Honors to Newly Elected Grand Master—Loving Cup

Easily the premier social event of the season in local Masonic circles, the joint communication held by St. John's Lodge No. 1, Wilmington Lodge No. 319 and Orient Lodge No. 395, in the ball room of the Masonic Temple last night, with the reception afterward, to pay official and social honors to the newly elected Grand Master of North Carolina, Mr. W. B. McKoy of this city, was one of the most largely attended and successful affairs of the kind in the history of the local organizations. About 250 Masons, both local and visiting, were in attendance.

The feature of the communication was the presentation of a handsome silver gold-lined loving cup, the gift of the three Wilmington lodges, to Grand Master McKoy. The speech of presentation was made by Col. A. M. Waddell and it was replied to most feeling and eloquently by Mr. McKoy. The cup is a beautiful reminder of the esteem and regard in which Grand Master McKoy is held by his brother Masons of this city. His name and his Masonic record is engraved on one side of the cup as follows: "William Berry McKoy. Initiated December 12th, 1879. Passed May 24th, 1881. Elected Master of Wilmington Lodge No. 319, December 20th 1898. Elected Grand Master January 10th, 1912."

After the lodge was closed a social session was held. Col. A. M. Waddell presided as toastmaster and speeches were made by Mr. C. L. Meister, representing St. John's Lodge No. 1; Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, representing Wilmington Lodge No. 319, and Mr. C. F. MacRae, representing Orient Lodge No. 395. All of the speakers paid high tribute to the Grand Master and all were greeted by round after round of applause.

Following the speech-making delightful refreshments were served under the supervision of Mrs. Jas. C. Musds, and then cigars and cigarettes were passed around.

Iredell Meares, Esq., arose and called on Deputy Grand Master E. M. Koonce, of Jacksonville, N. C., who was present, for a speech, and the proposal was greeted with applause from the assemblage. Mr. Koonce made a short but eloquent speech, expressing his deep pleasure at being able to be present and to aid in doing honor to Grand Master McKoy, of whom he spoke in terms of the highest praise.

Mr. Meares also offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted by a standing vote.

"On the occasion of this assembly of brother Masons of the several lodges of this city to manifest their gratification upon the election of an esteemed brother Mason to the high office of Grand Master of the Grand Jurisdiction of North Carolina, the absence of our brother William H. Chadbourn, whose many years of identity, interest and service in Masonry as Master of Orient Lodge, High Priest of Concord Chapter and Commander of Plantagenet Commandery, we pleasantly remember, is not unnoticed; and when we realize that the absence is due to his bereavement by the death of his beloved wife, it becomes an occasion of profound regret to each and all of us therefore, let it be resolved, that we send to him a message of brotherly esteem and express to him a sympathetic sense of sorrow in the earthly loss which he has been called to sustain;

"That he be assured we realize the depths of his grief and would console him, as far as we may, with the thought that in these sad moments of parting with the companion of his life, which are his alone to bear, he is not without the remembrance and condolence of his Masonic friends and brethren, and, we trust, in the treasured recollections of his association with her through many years of wedded life, he will be sustained in his present trial and until he may find again its reunion in the eternal life beyond the grave. So mote it be!"

The reception lasted until 1 o'clock, when the meeting broke up and the members went to their homes with the memory of one of the most enjoyable evenings in the history of local Masonry lingering with them.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of Mr. Swift M. Boatwright, St. John's Lodge No. 1; Robt. C. Cantwell, Wilmington Lodge No. 319, and Mr. Jas. C. Munds, Orient Lodge No. 395.

MR. J. C. LONG ASSIGNS

Names Woodus Kellum, Esq., as Trustee for His Grocery Business

By deed of trust filed at the office of the Register of Deeds yesterday, Mr. J. C. Long assigns his grocery business at 1121 Market street, to Woodus Kellum, Esq., as trustee, to dispose of same and out of the funds derived therefrom to pay to his creditors their pro rata share with the exception of the personal property exemption allowed by law, the expenses and costs of the execution and a fee of $25 allowed Kellum & Loughlin for professional services. The paper sets forth that Mr. Long is indebted to various persons and is unable to meet the demands made upon him, and that wishing to pay said creditors as much as possible he desires that his stock in trade, goods, wares, merchandise, books, accounts, choses in action and effects of every nature be sold for the purpose.

THE NATIONAL PARK

Full Text of Bill Introduced by Congressman H. L. Godwin

The following is the full text of the bill introduced in the House on January 24th, by Congressman H. L. Godwin providing for the purchase of the land upon which Fort Fisher is located and establishing there a National Park:

"A bill to provide for the purchase of the land upon Fort Fisher and the outlying batteries connected therewith were located, in the State of North Carolina, and to establish a National Park thereat:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of War be, and he is hereby, authorized and empowered to acquire, by purchase or by condemnation proceedings, the site of Fort Fisher and the batteries therewith connected, in the county of New Hanover, in the State of North Carolina, comprising the land beginning at approximately 300 feet northerly from Craig's landing, so called, on the Cape Fear river, thence easterly across the peninsula to the Atlantic ocean, embracing all of the land of the peninsula to the southward of that line, comprising approximately 1,800 acres, more or less.

"Section 2. That the said lands above mentioned are hereby constituted and set apart as a National park or reservation, under such rules and regulations as may be adopted and promulgated by the Secretary of War.

"Section 3. That the sum of $30,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary to acquire the title to said lands, is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of carrying into effect this act."

The bill was referred to the committee on Military Affairs and ordered to be printed.

The following is the text of a bill introduced by Congressman Godwin on January 25th:

"A bill to authorize a survey of Lumber river, North Carolina:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of War be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to cause a survey to be made of Lumber river, in the State of North Carolina, to ascertain the cost and feasibility of improving said river for the purpose of navigation from the upper point of present navigability in said river to the town of Lumberton, in the county of Robeson, North Carolina."

ATTENDED ANNUAL MEETING

Convention of Metropolitan Superintendents in New York

Mr. G. T. Emmart, superintendent of the Wilmington district of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, has returned from New York, where he has been attending the annual convention of Metropolitan superintendents. Mr. Emmart had a most delightful trip, and says it was the most successful convention the company has ever had, and the year 1911 was the best in the history of the company. The company is arranging to extend the nursing service to policyholders all over the country, and Mr. Emmart is trying to arrange it to be given to the policyholders of this city. The Wilmington district stood well up among the leaders for business, and Mr. Emmart had many questions asked by superintendents from all over the country as to the progress Wilmington was making, and he improved every opportunity to boost the city of his adoption.

PETITION PRESENTED

Against Plan to Discontinue Revenue Cutter Service

The following from yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer will be read with interest in Wilmington:

"Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—Senator Overman read in the Senate today a petition from the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington protesting against the plan to discontinue the revenue cutter service as recommended in President Taft's message last week.

"The petition explains that Wilmington and all North Carolina coast towns will be affected by the proposed change and that the Chamber of Commerce had investigated the sentiment of the coast towns toward the proposition and found that the continuance of the cutter service is generally desired. As yet no bill has been introduced in either House providing for the discontinuance of the service, there is strong probability that should such a bill be presented it will meet with small favor, especially from States along the Atlantic coast."

COTTON MARKET WAS STEADY

Railroads Stocks Were Most Active Some of Them Making Large Gains—The Market Broadened Considerably

New York, Jan. 30.—The cotton market was very steady; even less active than yesterday, but little change occurred in prices, with the close steady at the advance of 3 @6 points. The opening was steady at a decline of one point to an advance of one point, which was just about in line with the cables. At the start, local operators seemed inclined to sell rother aggressively, probably on an expectation that with January commitments out of the way there would be a slackening of spot demand early next month and that there might be some consequent weakening of the Southern spot situation. Aside from the local pressure, however, there seemed to be very little cotton offered, and the selling was well taken by trade buying, covering of older shorts, or a little buying from abroad. This support soon checked the aggressiveness of the speculative offerings around the ring, and the market later steadied, reaching the highest point of the day in the late trading and closing within a point of the best on covering of shorts, and buying by spot people. The absence of Southern hedge selling did not encourage the early feeling of approaching weakness in the interior spot speculation and while private advices from Southern spot people are somewhat conflicting as to the attitude of holders there was nothing in the action of today's market to indicate that the trade offtake was sufficient to absorb immediate offerings at as good or better basis than could be secured by deliveries on contract. Th's probably accounted for the rally in the afternoon, although the inactivity of trade and the narrowness of fluctuations suggested continued hesitation, due perhaps to uncertainty as to the attitude of the South as the planting season draws nearer. Reports from Lawrence, Mass., indicated continued disturbance among the strikers, but otherwise reports from domestic textile workers appeared to be considered favorably. Receipts today, 71,990 bales, against 60,637 last week, and 62,239 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston, 29,111, against 15,316 last year; and at New Orleans, 9,249, against 16,537 last year, and at Houston, 19,949, against 5,365 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 9.65; middling gulf, 9.90; sales, 1,005 bales.

Futures closed steady.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Weakness at Buenos Ayres and an increase of stocks at Minneapolis took some of the fight today out of the bulls. As a result, the closing prices were at a decline of a quarter all around, compared with last night. Latest trading left corn a shade to ¼c. down, oats a sixteenth to ¼ up and hog products increased in cost a nickle to a dime.

TRADING ON STOCKS ACTIVE

There Was Very Little Change In Cotton Prices Yesterday and Close Was Steady With Small Advance

New York, Jan. 30.—Under the spur of a keen demand for the leading railroad stocks, prices moved forward quickly in the early trading today. Shares of all the best known roads and of a number of industrial corporations rose from 1 to 2 points, with a few more extensive gains. Trading was active and the market broadened in a way which seemed to indicate considerable underlying strength.

A variety of influences of conflicting character were brought to play on the market. The most important were the reports of the Harriman roads for December, the strength of the shares of the Vanderbilt lines and the quarterly statement of the United States Steel Corporation. United States Steel rose a point in the early trading and, although it subsequently sold off to below 63 for the first time this year, it bounded back to 64 in the late trading.

The Steel Corporation's net earnings of $23,105,000 were well up to expectations. It remains true, however, that the net earnings of the Steel Corporation are nearly three million dollars less than those of the corresponding period of 1910, when business conditions were none too good and there are barely sufficient to pay the dividends on the common and preferred stock, in spite of the fact that no appropriations have been made this year for depreciation. The appearance of the Harriman statements, showing a decrease in net earnings in December of $650,000 for Union Pacific and of $716,000 for Southern Pacific, was followed by a break in the stock market to the lowest points of the day. Chicago and Northwestern reported a reduction of $135,000 in net earnings for last month. Canadian Pacific's strength was explained by its report of a gross increase of nearly $2,000,000 for last month, and a gain in net of $190,000. The pronounced strength of the stocks of the Vanderbilt roads made them the center of speculative interest. New York Central, Northwestern Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati & St. Louis, New York, Chicago & St. Louis and Omaha all made gains of 2 to 5 points. Gossip had it that the movement was the result of plans of a further combination of the Vanderbilt lines. St. Paul displayed marked weakness. After gaining a point early in the day it sold off to 1.04¾, the lowest figure since 1908. National Biscuit rose nearly four points, to 150, the highest price at which this stock ever sold. The trading in bonds fell off, but the tone was firm. Totals sales, par value, $3,008,000. United States 2s, coupon, declined ⅝ and Panama 3s, coupon, ¼ on call.

Total sales, 474,800 shares.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS.

always give satisfaction because they always do the work. J. T. Shelnut, Bremen, Ga., says: "I have used Foley Kidney Pills with great satisfaction and found more relief from their use than from any other kidney medicine, and I've tried almost all kinds. I can cheerfully recommend them to all sufferers for kidney and bladder trouble." Foley Kidney Pills will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. Robt. R. Bellamy.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Jan. 30.—The readjustment that took place in the cost of cottons and which brought the quotations of some mill agents down ¼ below the opening figures, caused buyers to hesitate placing Fall orders on these goods. The largest factors held to the opening quotations, and are doing a large amount of business. There was a good demand for prints for export. The call for most goods in the jobbing houses was satisfactory. Duplicate orders were received on silk goods for Spring delivery. Cotton yarns were in fair demand and spinners asked slight advances.

upon the Republican party and upon the administration in the last few years. He declared that the old line Republicans were progressive; progressive enough to adopt all the legislation that progress demanded, but that he was not the sort of man to promise to "make a heaven on earth," or to reform the world in a day. He said that in his mind there were three reasons why the party should be returned to power next November. One was that it had "done reasonably and fairly well" in its administration of the government in the last few years and deserved the continued confidence of the country; the second was that it was progressing and would put in operation all the necessary legislation that is progressive, and the third was that the party was "not chasing chimeras and not unsettling the foundations of government merely to indulge in the fancies of hope."

The President's political speech came as a surprise to many of his auditors who listened respectfully when he began, reviewing in narrative fashion his knowledge of William McKinley. The diners cheered him wildly when he said:

"I believe that the Republican party is going to be successful in November, 1912, and I believe it thoroughly and sincerity and without any mental reservations whatever, and I believe that because I have real faith in the intelligence and discrimination of the American people. I believe that they knew what good service is; I believe that they have intelligence and discrimination enough to convince them that the service of the past four years has been such that they can trust it for the next four years."

PLEADS FOR TEMPERANCE.

Woman Appears Before Senate on Behalf of Prohibition Law.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, of Eastman, Ga., known in prohibition circles in her own State as "The Georgia Cyclone," jarred senatorial dignity today. She told the dignified members of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary, in the hearing on the proposed law prohibiting shipment of alcoholic liquors into "dry States", that they "could learn a lot," and that, whoever on the committee votes against the bill was "a mighty poor lawyer." She was supported by Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, a half hundred members of that organization, several Georgia women and a scattering of men.

"I don't know why we should be here at all," said Mrs. Armour, "since it is an insult to your injustice for us to have to plead for such a law. I don't want to hurt anybody's feelings, but I'm here to talk common sense, and I haven't time to waste on you all."

Mrs. Armour and Mrs. Stevens spoke tonight at a temperance rally, and the former told the Senate she thought it would do them good if they would attend.

"You senators think you all are too big folks to come and hear me speak," she said, "but I want to tell you that you could learn a lot. But speaking of this bill, I'm no lawyer, but I've read law, and anyone who votes against this bill because of alleged unconstitutionality is a mighty poor lawyer.

A WILD OUTBREAK.

Man Shot Wife, Then Set Fire to His Home.

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 30.—After indulging in a wild outbreak at Collinsville today, during which he shot and perhaps fatally injured his wife, attempted to shoot his sister-in-law, set fire to their home and held off a posse until the house was destroyed, John Kenefic, a former local fireman, is a prisoner here tonight.

He tried finally to end his own life, but had exhausted his last bullet when he snapped the revolver against his forehead.

Kenefic had been separated from his wife for some time. Today he went to the home of Arthur Johnson, his father-in-law, in Collinsville, to see her. After saying that he knew he was "queer" and that he did not blame her for not living with him, the man suddenly drew a revolver and pointed it at the baby. His sister-in-law grabbed the child and fled from the room, followed by a bullet that struck the doorway. He then threatened his mother-in-law, who escaped by a rear door, and later turned to his wife, who was on her knees, begging him not to shoot her mother.

Kenefic forced his wife into a corner of the room and fired twice at her, both shots taking effect in the neck and arm.

He then set the house afire and taking the baby from the place it had been hidden, went to the door. Holding the child before him as a shield, he made his way to a tree from behind which he exchanged 40 or more shots with a posse. After attempting to shoot himself Kenefic surrendered.

OPERA RECEIPTS GROW.

Present Season $70,169 Ahead of Last Year's.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—A statement of the receipts of the Chicago Grand Opera Company for the season just closed shows an increase over that of 1910-11 of $70,169.

The total of the season, which included three performances at Cleveland, three at Milwaukee and one at Cincinnati, is $494,576. For the 10 weeks' performance a year ago the total was $424,407. The figures were given out last night by the general manager.

could be proven by Godwin, himself, if the defense desired to put him on the stand. Mr. Gafford conceded this but said said that it would make it stronger with Griffith to corroborate him. Judge Allen replied that he could not delay the hearing any longer. Mr. Kellum then inquired the purpose of the hearing, asking if it was for the purpose of finding out if he had sold the whiskey, as alleged on Monday night, or was he being tried on this charge.

Judge Allen said that it was for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not he had violated his agreement made at the time the plea of nolo contendere was entered; that there had been no bill of indictment found against him for selling whiskey the night before.

"I'll take the stand myself," said Mr. Gafford to his colleague, "and testify to the transfer of the business. Swear me, Mr. Clerk." Mr. Gafford was sworn and then took the stand. He first testified to the fact that Godwin along with a large number of others were indicted for selling whiskey and last week entered a plea of nolo contendere, which was accepted by the court and a bond not to engage in the sale of whiskey for a period of 12 months was made a condition. Godwin, he said, closed his place on the day the cases were disposed in court and the place was not re-opened until Saturday and then under different ownership. Mr. Gafford then testified that Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock Godwin and Griffith came to his office and Godwin asked him to draw a bill of sale and mortgage for the transfer of his property at No. 17 Princess street to Griffith. Mr. Gafford said that he drew the papers; that Griffith paid $100 cash and gave a mortgage and note for the balance. He exhibited the mortgage and note to the court. In reply to a question from Mr. Ricaud the witness said that Griffith had been working as clerk for Godwin for some time. The mortgage was then read by Mr. Ricaud and the amount was $1,400, which Griffith was to pay by January 3rd, 1913.

Mr. Ricaud asked the witness what was the character of the business conducted by Godwin prior to the execution of the paper he had just read. Mr. Kellum objected to the question, but Judge Allen ruled that it was proper and further, he remarked that he wanted to get at the bottom of the matter. He said that it won't do for a man to obligate not to sell whiskey and the transfer to some one else. He said that this would be like dropping a nickle into a slot and getting a bottle of whiskey out.

Replying to the question, Mr. Gafford said that prior to last Tuesday, when the cases were disposed in court, that Godwin ran what was called a near-beer saloon. It was at this juncture that Mr. Ricaud brought out that Mr. Gafford had taken several drinks at Godwin's and a few times he was accompanied by Mr. Ricaud. While he he did not know that anything had been moved from the place, Mr. Gafford could not say that the business was the same that it was prior to last Tuesday.

Mr. Ricaud inquired about the government license remaining in the name of Godwin. Mr. Gafford said that the new owner could not obtain license from Raleigh in so short a period and he also remarked that as the license is not transferable that it could have remained upon the wall and yet not mean that Griffith was operating under it.

Judge Allen said that it appeared that Godwin was wholesaling whiskey instead of retailing in disposing of the stock to Griffith. Mr. Gafford explained that the defendants understood that they were out of business and that it was in compliance with this agreement that Godwin had sold his place.

Mr. Kellum again sought to delay final consideration of the case on the ground that Hon. John D. Bellamy, the principal counsel for the defendant, was out of the city. Judge Allen replied that he was going to dispose of the matter right away. He said that the only thing with him was whether or not Godwin had violated the spirit of his agreement. Judge Allen said that he would stand by the action of Judge Ferguson, but it was shown that Godwin had violated his agreement, practically in face of the court, he would consider himself unworthy if he did not take notice of it and that he was going to do and do it immediately. He thought that the alleged transfer of the property was merely a subterfuge, trifling with the courts. "Here is a man," said Judge Allen, "who claims that he had quit selling whiskey. He then transferred his place to his clerk and the business is continued. It is the most highly handed thing I ever heard of. I would act in this case if I knew I would be shot to death before I leave this court room."

Solicitor Shaw then addressed the court and asked that judgment be entered in the case. He said that in his opinion the spirit of the agreement had been violated. He considered the sale of the property merely a subterfuge. He remarked upon the fact that the defendant was in court, but that he left it to his attorney to shed light upon the alleged transfer of the property.

Continuing his remarks, Judge Allen said that the case before him went beyond the whiskey question; it was a question of whether or not the law was to be vindicated; whether officers would stand by and see the law, not only the prohibition law, but all laws violated. If the law is not enforced the community will be in a state of anarchy. He said that he could not sit as a representative of North Carolina and see the law openly and defiantly violated. He said that he thought the courts could afford to be mild in the beginning, but the time for being mild in the consideration of whiskey cases in Wilmington has passed. Judge Allen then remarked that it could not be known whether or not the law is a failure until it has been given a trial. In some places it has not been regarded at all, therefore it can not be said whether or not it has been a success. If after the law has been given a fair trial it is found to be a failure relief can be asked of the Legislature. He told of having cleaned up a community in Pitt county last week and asserted that before he left the county a better condition of affairs could be noted.

A man who will violate the prohibition law will violate other laws, said Judge Allen. The man who violates this law will get so after a while he will shoot a man down and commit other crimes. The man who sells whiskey in this State is defying the police officers, the sheriff, judges and the Governor of North Carolina.

Judge Allen then mentioned the fact that the law-breaker is a coward. He will run if he is given to understand that the law must be enforced. He said that he felt it his duty to protect the people of this community from lawlessness as far as in his power. He said that this is a good community and that the law ought to be enforced here. Some have said that the law ought not to be enforced here because a majority of the people are against it. There was a time, said Judge Allen, when the people of this community called upon other sections of the State to aid in the adoption of a law that was not wanted in the western part of the State. But that section rallied to the East and helped to pass the law.

Turning to Capt. W. N. Harriss, Deputy Clerk of Court, Judge Allen said: "Mr. Clerk, make the entry that, It appearing to the court that the defendant in this case has violated both the letter and the spirit of his agreement as contained in his plea since it was entered, it is, upon motion of the solicitor, it is the judgment of the court that the defendant be sentenced to 12 months on the county roads."

It will be recalled that Godwin has a suspended judgment hanging over him in the Recorder's court on a charge of assault with deadly weapon. Prayer for judgment was continued until February 1st, on account of the case against him in Superior Court. The matter will come up before Substitute Recorder Harriss on February 1st and judgment may or may not be prayed at that time by Assistant City Attorney Peschau.

It was said yesterday that it is probable that others will be brought into court on an allegation that they have violated their agreement in the whiskey cases.

THE CHILDREN'S BUREAU

Establishment of Bureau to be Voted on Today

Washington, Jan. 30.—The proposal for a children's bureau in the Department of Commerce and Labor to investigate and report in all matters affecting the welfare of children, was debated in the Senate today, without action, and will be voted upon between nonon and 2 o'clock tomorrow. Because of the many senators who wished to speak on the bill and the agreement previously reached on this legislative day, the Senate, after a running fire of constitutional attack on the measure, recessed at 6 o'clock tonight until noon tomorrow.

Senator Gallinger opposed the bill as contemplating an unwarranted intrusion into private affairs. Mr. Heyburn attacked it as a discrimination against the poor and Senator Overman branded it as unnecessary.

Senator Smith, of Georgia, made his maiden speech in support of the bill. He declared it would be of vast benefit to children, without interferring with State rights.

Senator Bailey attributed the bill's popularity to the influence of women, who, he said, should confine their attention outside the halls of legislation.

"The more a woman knows about the things she ought to know," he said, "the less she knows about things we are doing here."

Senator Stone characterized the bill as inquisatorial and involving unlimited expenditures. Senator Borah, author of the bill, said it was as much warranted as many of the existing government offices.

STOCK DEALER KILLED.

Atlanta Physician Shot Man Who Refused to Leave Town.

Athens, Ga., Jan. 30.—Dr. H. M. Fullilove, one of the most prominent men in this section of the State, shot and probably fatally wounded C. L. McKee, a former stock dealer, in the lobby of a hotel here after McKee had refused to leave town when requested to do so by Fullilove, who claimed McKee had been annoying Mrs. Fullilove. When McKee declined to leave town at the physician's request, both men drew revolvers and began firing, the former receiving three bullet wounds. Fullilove was not hit.

In a statement after the shooting McKee claimed that when Fullilove asked him to leave Athens he denied he had been guilty of misconduct toward Mrs. Fullilove or any member of the physician's family. McKee formerly lived at Shelbyville, Ky.

STANDARD COTTON GRADES

Department of Agriculture Sealing Up Samples of Cotton

Washington, Jan. 30.—Graded cotton, which would be unchanged in color of texture if kept and opened a thousand years from now is being placed in heremetically sealed vacuum glass cases by the Department of Agriculture. These officially graded and tested samples are to serve as the standard by which the cotton of the future will be graded. Altogether about 50 sets of samples will be preserved; and these, it is estimated, may last a hundred years, as once every two years will be as often, it is believed as it will be necessary to compare current grades with the standard.

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT.

The Way Samose Works Its Wonders Guaranted by J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co.

More than half the readers of The Star would give almost anything to be plump and rosy instead of thin and scrawny.

Physicians and chemists for years have studied the problem of making a flesh forming food, but it is only within the last few months that a bright man discovered the prescription that taken with the daily meals gives a positive increase in flesh. In fact, it was so certain in its action that a guarantee was attached to each package stating that if weight did not increase as a result of using it, the purchase price would be refunded.

This preparation is now put up in convenient form for use under the name of Samose.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., has secured the agency in Wilmington for Samose and as the percentage of satisfactory results from the use of this prescription is so nearly one hundred per cent. they feel there is no risk in offering to refund the money if Samose does not do all that is claimed for it.

Everybody that is thin and out of health should begin today the use of Samose with a guarantee like this.

PENSION APPROPRIATIONS

Bill Reported to the House and Debate Begun

Washington, Jan. 30.—The pension appropriation bill, carrying $152,579,000 for the coming fiscal year, was reported to the House today and debate on the measure was immediately begun. The bill would eliminate 17 branch pension agencies throughout the country at an estimated saving of $250,000 a year. Democratic leaders declared today that they were determined upon their abandonment. Discussion of the bill drifted into a tariff debate in which Representative Hill, of Connecticut, Republican, and Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, acting Democratic leader, discussed the wool schedule.
